Dems demand refunds after tariffs tossed by court

Illinois guv sends $9 bn invoice to White House; estimates show refunds could total $175 bn

WASHINGTON

GOVERNOR J B Pritzker of Illinois sent Donald Trump an invoice Friday demanding nearly $9 billion in tariff refunds for Illinois families after the US Supreme Court ruled the president's much-touted levies are illegal.

Pritzker urged the White House to "cut the check" after justices ruled 6-3 that Trump had exceeded his authority by invoking emergency powers to impose tariffs that reshaped global trade and pushed up prices at home.

"Your tariff taxes wreaked havoc on farmers, enraged our allies and sent grocery prices through the roof," the Democrat wrote, warning further legal action could follow if compensation was not forthcoming. In the letter, shared with US media, Pritzker demanded about $1,700 for every Illinois household -- the amount Yale University experts said the average US household would pay on tariffs last year. Pritzker wasn't alone in seeking payback—both political and literal —for widespread consumer woes.

Donald Trump

Earlier Friday, California Governor Gavin Newsom said the money Trump's tariffs had raised came from US voters' pockets—and should be refunded.

"Time to pay the piper, Donald. These tariffs were nothing more than an illegal cash grab that drove up prices and hurt working families, so you could wreck longstanding alliances and extort them," he said.

"Every dollar unlawfully taken must be refunded immediately—with interest!"

Pritzker and Newsom are widely seen as potential Democratic contenders in the 2028 presidential race.

Their demands add a populist flourish to a complicated legal and economic reality.

The scale of potential repayments is vast. The influential Penn-Wharton Budget Model has estimated that refunds could total $175 billion, though it's unclear who would ultimately receive the money.

Announced with fanfare last April, Trump's tariffs have raised more than $130 billion from importers, with a significant proportion of that extra cost passed on to consumers through higher prices.

Treasury Secretary Scott Bessent expressed skepticism that ordinary Americans will see direct compensation. AFP

Industries push for more stability

A wide array of industries, used the Supreme Court ruling as an opportunity to remind Trump of how his trade policies have affected their businesses. The Business Roundtable, a group that lobbies on behalf of more than 200 US companies, urged the administration to limit the focus of tariffs going forward

PIO lawyer argued against tariffs, celebrates 'victory'

WASHINGTON

AT the centre of the landmark US Supreme Court verdict striking down President Donald Trump's sweeping global tariffs is an Indian-origin lawyer who argued before America's highest court about the illegality of the levies.

Neal Katyal, the son of Indian immigrants and the former Acting Solicitor General of the United States under President Barack Obama, argued the consequential tariff case on behalf of small businesses and won. "Victory," Katyal posted on X shortly after the Supreme Court verdict came in on Friday. "I was able to present my case, have them ask really hard questions at me, it was a really intense oral argument and at the end of it, they voted and we won," he said.

Katyal was born in 1970 in Chicago to a paediatrician mother and engineer father, both of whom immigrated from India. Katyal is a partner in the Washington DC office of Milbank LLP and a member of the firm's Litigation & Arbitration Group. PTI

Indian-origin Asha Sharma to lead Microsoft's gaming division

WASHINGTON

TECHNOLOGY giant Microsoft has named Indian-origin Asha Sharma as Executive Vice President and CEO of Microsoft Gaming, joining a long and growing list of Indian-descent leaders at the helm of global companies.

In a message announcing the appointment, Microsoft Chairman and CEO Satya Nadella Friday said that Sharma has helped build and scale services that reach billions of people and support thriving consumer and developer ecosystems over the last two years in her role at Microsoft.

She brings "deep experience building and growing platforms, aligning business models to long-term value, and operating at global scale, which will be critical in leading our gaming business into its next era of growth," Nadella said.

Sharma will be succeeding Phil Spencer and will be reporting to Nadella.

"Gaming has been part of Microsoft from the start. Flight Simulator shipped before Windows, and you can practically ray-trace a line from DirectX in the '90s to the accelerated compute era we're in today," Nadella said.

In her message, Sharma said she begins her role as CEO of Microsoft Gaming with "humility and urgency".

"Humility, because this team has built something extraordinary over decades. Urgency because gaming is in a period of rapid change, and we need to move with clarity," she said.

"I am stepping into work shaped by generations of artists, engineers, designers, writers, musicians, operators and more who create worlds that have brought joy and deep personal meaning to hundreds of millions of players," Asha Sharma added. PTI

At least 12 killed in Israeli strikes on east, south Lebanon

BEIRUT

LEBANON said Israeli strikes on the country's east and south killed 12 people on Friday, with Israel's army saying it targeted militant group Hezbollah and its Palestinian ally Hamas.

A statement from Hezbollah in the eastern Bekaa Valley said a "commander" from the Iran-backed group had been killed in the raids there.

Israel has kept up regular strikes on Lebanon despite a November 2024 ceasefire that sought to halt more than a year of hostilities with Hezbollah.

"Israeli enemy strikes" on several locations in the Bekaa Valley "killed 10 people and wounded 24", Lebanon's health ministry said, adding that three children were among the wounded. The state-run National News Agency had earlier reported six dead and 25 wounded after "heavy strikes" hit in the region. The raids came hours after an Israeli strike on the country's largest Palestinian refugee camp killed two people, according to the health ministry, with Israel's army saying it had targeted Hamas.

The NNA said "an Israeli drone" targeted a neighbourhood of the Ain al-Helweh camp, which is located on the outskirts of the southern city of Sidon. AFP

Curfew imposed in southern Nepal district after clash

KATHMANDU

CURFEW was imposed in parts of Rautahat district of Madhesh province in southern Nepal following clashes between two groups heightened tensions on Saturday.

The clashes between the two communities were triggered by a dispute on Thursday evening, followed by escalation of tension through Friday and Saturday morning with at least eight persons injured.

According to Chief District Officer Dinesh Sagar Bhusal, the curfew has been enforced in Gaur, the district headquarters, and other parts from 1.00 pm Saturday until further notice as decided by the Rautahat District Security Committee.

Under Section 6(a) of the Local Administration Act, the District Administration Office has prohibited movement of people, organising gatherings, assemblies, rallies, and demonstrations within the curfew zone.

The incident occurred on Thursday evening in the Sapgadha area of Gaur Municipality, where many members of one community allegedly obstructed a wedding procession playing music in front of a mosque, leading to tensions that later escalated into violent clashes.

At least eight people, including two policemen, were injured in the incident. Earlier, the local authorities had deployed hundreds of riot police personnel in the tension area to prevent clashes.

Tensions flared after a vehicle was set on fire during the clashes, The Kathmandu Post said. PTI
