Land case: SC bars TN from acting against Sastra univ

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY
@ New Delhi

IN a major relief to SASTRA University in Thanjavur, the Supreme Court on Monday restrained the Tamil Nadu government from taking any coercive action against it over 31.37 acres of government land allegedly encroached upon by the institution.

A bench comprising Chief Justice of India Surya Kant and Justices Joymalya Bagchi and V Mohana made absolute its interim order staying any coercive measures against the university and listed its plea for final hearing.

The bench took note of the statement made by senior advocate Jaideep Gupta, appearing for Tamil Nadu, that the state did not want to resolve the case amicably and wanted its land back. "Your Lordships may issue notice; they are sitting on a huge chunk of government land," Gupta said.

Senior advocates Mukul Rohatgi and Abhishek Manu Singhvi, appearing for Shanmugha Arts, Science, Technology and Research Academy (SASTRA), submitted that the institution remained willing to offer alternative land but the state declined.

The dispute concerns 31.37 acres of government land in Thirumalaisamudram village, Thanjavur district, allotted to the State Prison Department for establishing an open-air jail. The state alleges that SASTRA encroached and raised constructions, including academic blocks. Eviction proceedings were initiated under the Tamil Nadu Land Encroachment Act, 1905.

SASTRA, a prominent deemed university, offered three alternative parcels of land in exchange, or to pay market value. The TN government rejected it, saying acceptance would put a premium on encroachment.

The Madras High Court on January 9, 2026, dismissed SASTRA's plea and upheld the eviction. SASTRA then approached the Supreme Court.

On January 15, 2026, the Supreme Court stayed the HC order and asked the university to submit three alternative land options. The bench had found them "just and fair" and asked the state to consider them sympathetically, ensuring no loss to the public exchequer. On August 10, the top court gave the state a free hand to determine the market value.

Railway passengers seek more train stoppages at Bommidi, Danishpet

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Salem

RAILWAY passengers from Salem and Dharmapuri districts staged a protest in front of the Salem Railway Division office, demanding additional train stoppages at Bommidi and Danishpet stations and improved rail services. They also submitted a petition to Salem Divisional Railway Manager Banna Lal, urging the division to consider their demands.

The Bommidi Public and Railway Passengers Welfare Association and the Southern Railway Danishpet Passenger Association, which jointly organised the protest, demanded additional train stoppages at Bommidi for the Kovai Express (12675/12676), Mysuru Express (16315/16316), Nagercoil Express (16339/16340) and Thiruvananthapuram Mail (12623/12624).

They also sought the restoration of the Arakkonam-Salem MEMU (16087/16088), which currently operates from Monday to Friday, as a daily service, with an additional commercial stoppage at Danishpet. Their other demands included extending the Arakkonam-Jolarpettai MEMU (16085/16086) up to Salem, among others.

No one came forward to save cops from mob

HOWEVER, some of them later surrounded the policemen, sources said.

Then a mob, allegedly under the influence of alcohol, began attacking the police personnel. Despite the policemen showing their identity cards and seeking help from locals, no one came forward to assist them, sources said.

Constable Alagesan managed to escape and walked through the forest to reach Palayam locality, from where he alerted the forest department. The forest department personnel, who were engaged in an elephant-chasing operation in the Eranahalli area, rushed to the spot.

Even after the forest department personnel intervened, the mob allegedly continued to attack the policemen, claiming that they were impostors.

The forest department personnel eventually managed to bring the three policemen to safety in their vehicle and admitted them to the Talavady GH for treatment.

"An investigation is under way. No one has been arrested so far," a senior police officer said. Erode Collector S Kandasamy said he was unaware of the incident and would look into it.

Court can't act upon newspaper reports: HC judge

THE issue gained further attention after political parties and social organisations renewed their demand for registration of an FIR against the ruling TVK MLA, after Justice Victoria Gowri of the Madras HC recently flagged the matter at a public event and pointed out that the police had not registered any case.

"Definitely, no," the state PP told the court when the judge asked whether there had been any attempt to cover up the issue. Pointing to the lack of legitimate material submitted by the petitioner to establish that the MLA had sent obscene messages, or a copy of the complaints allegedly sent by the IAS officer to the top authorities, the judge said, "The court can't act upon newspaper reports."

Stating that the issue was being raised based on newspaper reports, the judge asked, "Do you think the head of the district doesn't know how to protect herself?"

The petitioner's counsel submitted that all the top officers were shielding the MLA and questioned what the collector could do in such a circumstance. The judge also asked how the police could take action if the collector had not submitted any complaint.

Justice Lakshminarayanan directed the state PP to obtain instructions from the concerned collector on whether she had submitted any complaint and from the chief secretary on whether he had received any complaint. The case was adjourned to Tuesday (November 24). The petitioner had stated that the collector was said to have lodged a complaint with the chief secretary, but no criminal proceedings, including registration of an FIR, had been initiated.

The advocate also stated that she had submitted a detailed representation to the respondent authorities, including the DGP and the Kallakurichi SP, on November 11, 2026, but neither had a reply been given nor any action taken. In her petition, she further pointed out that the National Commission for Women had taken suo motu cognisance of media reports and directed the police authorities to conduct a fair inquiry into the allegations.

Mettur dam inflow falls below 500 cusecs

SALEM: Inflow into the Mettur dam dropped sharply to 494 cusecs on Monday, falling below the 500-cusec mark for the first time in recent weeks, amid a lack of rainfall in the catchment areas. The decline comes after the reservoir witnessed a gradual recovery in its water level through November, supported by more inflows following withdrawal of water releases for delta irrigation. As per the Water Resources Dept's data on Monday, the water level stood at 61.420 feet against the dam's Full Reservoir Level (FRL) of 120 feet, while the storage was 25,757 million cubic feet. ENS

CM goes into huddle with top officials to discuss deepam issue

MEANWHILE, the TN govt on Monday could not mention its review petition challenging the November 20 order of the SC allowing the lighting of the Karthigai Deepam on the deepathoon atop the hill, as the SC bench concerned did not sit for hearing on Monday. CM C Joseph Vijay went into a huddle with Law minister R Nirmal Kumar, AG Vijay Narayan and DGP Mahesh Kumar Aggarwal on legal and security measures ahead of the festival on Tuesday at the secretariat in Chennai on the issue, but no official statement was released.

While TVK ministers remained non-committal, alliance partner and VCK chief Thol Thirumavalavan insisted that the TN govt would take steps to light the Karthigai Deepam at the Deepamandapam near the Uchi Pillaiyar temple and not at the deepathoon (lamp pillar) atop the hill. In the meantime, Hindu outfits on Monday filed petitions to the Collector urging compliance with the orders of the SC and blamed the government for filing the review petition, whereas the TN Thowheed Jamath (TNTJ) and members of the Madurai People Religious Harmony Federation later in the evening staged demonstrations demanding protection of religious harmony.

The Nalanda Research Sanctum, a multidisciplinary research facility with 10 specialised centres was inaugurated at Vinayaka Mission's Kirupananda Variyar Engineering College in Salem on Friday in the presence of Dato' Seri Dr S Sharavanan, President, VMRF (Trust) and chief guest Dr Harish Kumar, Scientist-F, Department of Science and Technology, GoI | EXPRESS
