US strikes coastal defences, Iran retaliates with ballistic missiles

Tehran warns of wider regional attacks as renewed fighting over the Strait of Hormuz deepens

TEHRAN

THE United States struck Iran and Tehran hit back at US allies in the Gulf on Thursday, as the foes battled over the vital Strait of Hormuz in the renewed West Asia war despite a call from mediator Pakistan to resume talks. The rekindled fighting came a month after the signing of a preliminary deal that aimed to end the conflict, which broke out in late February with massive US-Israeli strikes on Iran.

On Thursday, Tehran warned it would target infrastructure across the region if US President Donald Trump followed through on a threat to attack power plants and bridges in Iran. That followed a fresh exchange of strikes between the two countries, with Iran's Revolutionary Guards saying they struck a US airbase in Jordan with ballistic missiles in response to what they described as an American attack near a children's cancer hospital in the Islamic republic.

State media said the hospital in Ahvaz, in the southwest, was evacuated following US airstrikes on the area, with the patients transferred to other medical centres. Foreign ministry spokesman Esmaeil Baqaei slammed the attack as "barbaric". The US military's Central Command (CENTCOM) said its forces hit Iranian military targets in multiple locations including coastal Bandar Abbas to "degrade Iran's ability to threaten innocent mariners" in the Strait of Hormuz.

Earlier strikes had targeted coastal defence and cruise missile sites on Greater Tunb Island in the Gulf, CENTCOM added. Iranian state news agency IRNA said a projectile struck parts of Semnan airport in the north, without injuring anyone. It also reported explosions elsewhere in the country, including Lorestan in the west, while air defences were triggered in parts of Tehran.

Soon after, US allies in the Gulf began responding to attacks, with Kuwait saying it intercepted Iranian drones and Bahrain sounding air raid sirens. Iranian news agencies later reported that the United States launched strikes around Iran's Gulf island of Qeshm near the Strait of Hormuz. AFP

US TIGHTENS STAY RULES FOR STUDENTS, JOURNALISTS

WASHINGTON

US President Donald Trump's administration finalized rules Thursday that impose stricter limits on how long foreign students and journalists can stay in the United States, the latest bid to tighten legal immigration in the country.

Under a change that could be implemented as soon as September, foreigners on student visas would be admitted for the length of their academic program up to a maximum of four years. Foreign journalists would be limited to stays of just 240 days, or around eight months, although they could apply to extend by 240-day periods, except for Chinese journalists who would get just 90 days. AFP

Ukraine defence row spills into public as Zelenskyy urges unity

KYIV

UKRAINE's ousted defence minister issued stunning public criticism of the army's top commander on Thursday, forcing President Volodymyr Zelenskyy to call for unity to halt signs of an emerging split in the military top ranks.

Large protests erupted in several Ukrainian cities on Thursday against the removal of popular defence minister Mykhailo Fedorov, who had been brought in six months ago to digitise and modernise an army fatigued after four years fighting off the Russian invasion.

The spiralling leadership row risks throwing uncertainty on the war effort at a time when Ukraine was in one of its best positions for months.

Kyiv's troops have largely halted the pace of Russia's advance while the pounding of Russian oil and military sites with long-range drones has triggered a nationwide fuel crisis inside its neighbour.

After being forced to resign, Fedorov on Thursday accused Ukraine's commander-in-chief Oleksandr Syrsky of dividing the country. "Instead of figuring out how to defeat Russia asymmetrically — which is the commander-in-chief's task — he figured out how to split the country," Fedorov told reporters, including AFP. He criticised slow bureaucracy and a lack of flexibility, questioning whether Ukraine could defeat Russia with Syrsky in charge of the army. "In this configuration, I personally don't know how to win the war," he said, wearing his trademark jeans and dark T-shirt, speaking in front of a large screen showing drones.

Protesters hold placards during a demonstration against Volodymyr Zelenskyy's decision to dismiss Ukraine's Defence Minister Mykhailo Fedorov, in Kyiv | AFP

He also alleged Syrsky had engineered his removal through an ultimatum issued to Zelenskyy after months of clashes.

Zelenskyy himself issued a plea for "unity" and said the two sides — the defence ministry and the army command — were barely on speaking terms. "A president in wartime should not have to choose in such a situation, honestly," he said, speaking alongside UK Prime Minister Keir Starmer in Kyiv. "I would very much like unity."

A soldier serving in Ukraine's army told AFP the political chaos in Kyiv could hit the war effort. AFP
