

Trump demands Iran's unconditional surrender

Can't even appoint mayor, but wants to choose our leader: Iran dy min

WASHINGTON

US President Donald Trump said on Friday that only Iran's "unconditional surrender" would bring an end to the West Asia war, as Tehran was rocked by some of the heaviest US-Israeli strikes of the spiralling, week-long conflict.

Now in its seventh day, the war has embroiled nations beyond the region, upended the world's energy and transport sectors, and brought chaos to even usually peaceful areas around the Gulf.

It has spread to Lebanon, whose prime minister warned of an impending humanitarian disaster as tens of thousands fled heavy Israeli strikes on Beirut's southern suburbs.

Trump, who has given varying reasons for starting the war that killed Iran's supreme leader Ayatollah Ali Khamenei last week-end, promised to help rebuild the country's economy if Tehran installed an "acceptable" new leader.

"There will be no deal with Iran except UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER," Trump wrote on his Truth Social platform.

"MAKE IRAN GREAT AGAIN (MIGA!)," he added.

In Tehran, several loud explosions sent clouds of black smoke into sky, according to AFP journalists who described the day's strikes as the heaviest yet on the capital.

"It's really very scary," a Tehran businessman who gave his first name as Robert told reporters. "Checkpoints have been put up in place in the city to prevent looting and ensure control," the 60-year-old said at the Armenian border with Iran.

Both Israel and the US warned on Friday they were escalating their attacks on Iran. "We have additional surprises ahead which I do not intend to disclose," Israel's military chief Lieutenant General Eyal Zamir said. According to Iran's health ministry, the US and Israeli strikes on the country have killed 926 people.

The Israeli military renewed its strikes on Beirut's suburbs Friday, Lebanese media reported. Agencies
