SC to watch Wangchuk speech videos before ruling on detention

New Delhi: The Supreme Court on Tuesday said it would watch videos of Sonam Wangchuk's speeches this week and reserved its order on March 17 on a plea filed by the jailed climate activist's wife Gitanjali J Angmo challenging his detention under the National Security Act (NSA).

A bench of justices Aravind Kumar and PB Varale said the judges would watch the videos this Thursday and they have requested the registrar to make arrangements for the screening.

"The judges will be watching the videos on Thursday. First we will watch the videos independently and then both the judges will watch the videos together," Justice Kumar said.

Additional Solicitor General KM Nataraj, appearing for the Centre and Union Territory of Ladakh administration, said Solicitor General Tushar Mehta was unwell and had requested for adjournment of the hearing in the matter.

Senior advocate Kapil Sibal, appearing for Angmo, said that frequent adjournments in the matter was sending a "wrong signal" in the country.

The bench said it is posting the matter for final hearing on next Tuesday (March 17) and made it clear that whatever happens on that day, the court will be reserving its decision.

"We are making it absolutely clear that no matter what we will be reserving our decision on next Tuesday after the final hearing. We will not allow any new points to be argued and the Solicitor General can only argue the new points raised by Mr. Sibal in his rejoinder arguments," Justice Kumar said.

Earlier, Mehta had sought to address the issue raised by the bench regarding the translations of Wangchuk's speeches.

During rejoinder arguments, Sibal had pointed out that the alleged inciteful statements attributed to Wangchuk in the detention order did not find mention in the chart of translated speeches produced by the Centre.

Sibal had argued that the detention order was based on non-existent material, and Wangchuk had never stated that he wanted to "overthrow" the government.

The bench had then questioned the discrepancy in the translations and asked the Centre to place on record the original videos and true translation of speeches attributed to Wangchuk.

On February 26, the top court deferred the hearing on Angmo's plea for post Holi vacation.

Earlier also the matter was adjourned several times as lawyers from different sides were not available.

The top court had earlier asked the Centre if there was any possibility for the government to have a relook at the detention of Wangchuk, considering his health condition.

Nataraj had submitted that Wangchuk was responsible for violence in Leh on September 24 last year, in which four people died, and 161 were injured. PTI

A bench of justices Aravind Kumar and PB Varale said the judges would watch the videos this Thursday and they have requested the registrar to make arrangements for the screening

Anticipatory bail to ex-IPS in phone tapping case

New Delhi: The Supreme Court on Tuesday granted anticipatory bail to former Telangana Special Intelligence Bureau (SIB) chief T Prabhakar Rao, who is an accused in a phone tapping case.

A bench of Justices B V Nagarathna and R Mahadevan granted the relief to the former IPS officer.

"...We dispose of the appeal by making absolute the interim protection which was granted to the accused," the bench said.

On December 19 last year, the apex court had extended till December 25 the police custody of Rao. The court had said Rao would be released after interrogation on December 26 and no coercive action be taken against him till it heard the case on the next date of hearing.

On January 16 this year, the court said it will hear the matter on March 10 and extended the interim protection to Rao till then.

During the proceedings on Tuesday, senior advocate Siddharth Luthra, appearing for Telangana, said the investigation was almost complete, and that an additional chargesheet will be filed against the former IPS officer in the coming days.

Rao said that he had cooperated with the investigation and complied with the court's orders. AGENCIES

'Drivers, conductors will be residents of nearby village'

The buses will be diverted for other services between 10 am and 4 pm, after which they will return to the villages by 8 pm, depending on distance. He said, "The drivers, conductors, and cleaners will be the residents of nearby villages, ensuring convenience in halting overnight and starting early in the morning. The average life of these buses will be 15 years, although operational permission will initially be granted for 10 years."

The committee chaired by the DM will determine fares at the local level, and ticket prices will remain affordable.

As the buses will not require permits or taxes, it will benefit operators as well.

The govt's objective is to provide better transport facilities to the public.

Under this scheme, each applicant will have the right to operate vehicles on all gram panchayat routes within the block for which they applied and determine the number of trips accordingly. Bus operators will be required to provide service to each gram panchayat in the block at least two times a day.

For the implementation of the scheme, application screening will be completed within 15 days. After the successful selection of applicants, 15 days will be given to arrange vehicles, and the entire process will be completed within 45 days.

Applications will be examined and selected by the committee chaired by the District Magistrate, which will also finalise routes while selecting service providers.

The responsibility for implementing and monitoring the scheme will lie with the concerned regional managers, who will regularly (at least monthly) update the commissioner on the progress of the work.
