

Kolar police arrest man who was absconding for 33 years

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Kolar

KOLAR Town police have arrested a 67-year-old man who had been absconding for 33 years in connection with a criminal case.

Speaking to The New Indian Express, SP Kanika Sikriwal said the accused, Zameer, was involved in a case registered on February 23, 1993, under Sections 143, 147, 324 read with 149 of the IPC. A counter-case had also been registered.

Zameer and five others had obtained station bail. After the chargesheet was filed, all the accused except Zameer appeared before the court and were acquitted after trial. The court later split the chargesheet and issued a warrant against Zameer, who had gone absconding and reportedly worked abroad during the period.

Sikriwal said inspector Sadanand and sub-inspector Sangappa were instructed to trace the accused. Police constables Shekar and Ramesh conducted searches at various locations. Using both traditional and technical investigation methods, the police succeeded in arresting Zameer and produced him before the court.

She added that special attention will be given to tracing and arresting absconders in long-pending register (LPR) cases.

DC bats for buying tankers instead of renting them

Reddy holds meeting over impending drinking water crisis

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru

STRESSING the need for advance planning to prevent drinking water crisis during the summer, former minister and Chamundeshwari MLA G T Devegowda directed officials to take immediate steps to ensure adequate water supply in municipal wards, town municipalities and town panchayats coming under the constituency.

Speaking at a meeting held at the Deputy Commissioner's office auditorium here on Wednesday, chaired by Deputy Commissioner G Lakshminanth Reddy, Devogodwa raised concerns over drinking water issues in Hootagalli, Dasanakkoppalu, RT Nagar, Vasanthanagar, Nadanahalli and Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel Nagar, and urged officials to initiate precautionary measures.

During the meeting, Hootagalli Town Municipal Council commissioner B N Chandrashekar pointed out that a water tank constructed by the Karnataka Industrial Areas Development Board (KIADB) near Hootagalli was not being put to use and permission had not been granted to utilise it until the Undavadi project is connected.

Responding immediately, the MLA contacted KIADB officials over the phone and secured consent to use the tank temporarily for public supply. The DC said the tank could be used for now, with the understanding that it would be handed back once water supply under the Undavadi project is established.

Though no major crisis has surfaced yet, the DC cautioned that water scarcity is likely to begin from April. "Residents from some layouts have already started approaching us with complaints. Officials must not wait for the problem to escalate. Prepare an action plan in advance and submit proposals. The district administration will grant approvals promptly," he said.

Officials from the Karnataka Urban Water Supply and Drainage Board (KU-WSDB), including executive engineer Aseep Iqbal Khaleel, informed that under the AMRUT-2 scheme, five TMC of water from the Kabini river has been allocated to Kadakola, with connectivity to be provided from Talur. A ₹35 crore pipeline project has been tendered to supply water to Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel Nagar, and work will commence shortly.

The deputy commissioner also directed the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) to release the allocated quota of water to local bodies as per the agreement between MCC and the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) under the Kabinri second-stage project. Of the 45 MLD allocated, 30 is earmarked for MCC and 15 for local bodies, with specific allocations to Hootagalli, Srirampura, Bogadi and Kadakola. He instructed officials to ensure the full sanctioned quantity is supplied without reduction.

He further directed officials to submit proposals for purchasing water tankers instead of hiring them, stating that buying tankers would save costs in the long run.
