Can Kerala sta overcome scalin

Narayanan S
Kochi, April 9

Kerala's startups have generated 75,0

THE HIGH ceilings, glossy floor and reflecting lights give the glass-walled lounge of the Kerala Startup Mission (KSUM) in Kochi a contemporary feel. Conversations unfold in small clusters: techies discuss prototypes, funding pitches, and hiring plans, as laptops flicker with over cups of coffee.

Kerala's much-talked-about startup ecosystem now appears on firm ground. The state is home to over 8,000 startups that have generated 75,000 jobs in the last decade, as per KSUM. This comes at a time when educated unemployment in Kerala has declined from around 5.3% in 2020-21 to 4.4% in 2023-24, according to the latest Periodic Labour Force Survey (PLFS) data. The rate has, however, remained higher than the national average, which fell from about 3.4% to 3.1% over the same period.

Ahead of the Assembly polls, startups emerged as a key plank in parties' narratives centred around employment. State Industries Minister P Rajeev said the government has been supporting entrepreneurship through several programmes like Maker Village, an electronic hardware incubator; innovation zones; and a fund-of-funds scheme to improve access to capital.

The ruling Left Democratic Front (LDF)'s election promises include expanding skill training, facilitating campus placements and increasing the share of manufacturing through industrial corridors. The LDF has proposed interest-free loans and incubation support to promote startups and job creation.

In its manifesto, the Congress-led United Democratic Front (UDF) has also proposed interest-free loans of up to Rs 5 lakh for entrepreneurs and financial support for MSMEs.

Leader of Opposition V D Satheesan, however, has questioned the government's claims. "The valuation of the startup ecosystem in Kerala was not grounded in reality," he said last year, noting that the state's contribution to the national GDP has remained unchanged at 3.8%.

The next steps

"The startup scene has come a long way in Kerala," says K V Hanifad, professor at the Centre for Development Studies (CDS) in Thiruvananthapuram. He points to a broader social acceptance of entrepreneurship. "This can easily be understood from the acceptance up- and-coming businesses people have in the matrimonial market. Earlier, everyone was looking for a person with a stable job."

But scaling remains a challenge. While the number of companies launched is increasing, many have not grown into large, sustainable businesses. Despite attracting around Rs 6,200 crore in funding, according to the KSUM, some founders say access to larger pools of capital remains limited compared with established hubs such as Bengaluru. The ecosystem, they say, supports early-stage experimentation, but thins as companies grow. While networking opportunities exist, founders lack mentors with experience in building companies, they add.

Part of the challenge also lies in the nature of the ideas. Many startups are built around niche or problem-specific solutions that do not easily translate into large, revenue-generating

No new clearances for production of refrigeran gases after 2027: Centre

Nikhil Ghanekar
New Delhi, April 9

IN LINE with its international commitments to gradually phase-down production of planet-warming hydrofluorocarbons (HFCs), the Government has directed all state and Central authorities to stop granting environmental clearances for new or additional HFC production beyond December 31, 2027. Those applying before the deadline will need to submit an undertaking guaranteeing that their plant will be fully operational, including commencement of production, on or before December 31, 2027.

The Environment Ministry directive in this regard was issued on April 1 through office memorandum to State Level Environment Impact Assessment Authorities and Expert Appraisal Committees at Central level. It said that no fresh environmental clearances (EC) under Environment Impact Notification shall be granted for HFC production projects. India is a party to the landmark Montreal Protocol of 1989 which was brought to tackle ozone depletion through phase-out of CFCs, with a complete ban from 2010.

Later in 2021, India ratified the Kigali amendment to the protocol, which adopted a plan to phase-down controlled applications of HFCs that being used as a replacement for This landmark amendment to t tocol was agreed upon in K Rwanda, in 2016.

India has agreed to a phase- schedule from January 1, 2028, aim which will see 10 per cent reduct HFCs by 2032 rising up to 45 per c 2047.

The Centre said in view of the ary 1, 2028, freeze date, it was nec to put in place a mechanism to m and progressively reduce HFC pr tion to meet India's international mitments. "Accordingly, no addi HFC production capacity should b mitted beyond 31.12.2027," the m andum stated.

The ministry's memorandum that the phase-down targets wer implemented through appro regulatory mechanisms, inclu amendment of the Ozone Depl Substances Rules, 2000.

This will be to align it with the phase-down schedule under the Amendment, prohibition on sett of new or expansion of HFC produ capacity for controlled applicatio the freeze date of January 1, 202 implementation of appropriate S work permitting HFC production
