While en route to Beijing, Trump said on social media he would “be asking President Xi, a Leader of extraordinary distinction, to ‘open up’ China so that these brilliant people can work their magic”. Nvidia’s Huang was a surprise late addition to the trip, joining the plane at a stopover in Alaska. China is

But Iran, trade and Taiwan loom over the highly anticipated meeting, which Trump had already delayed from March because of the war the United States and Israel started in the West Asia. Visiting China for the first time since 2017 during his previous term, Trump is expected to receive a lavish welcome from Chinese authorities.

Starmer set to face challenge as House opens

LONDON

THE pomp of a speech by King Charles III to Britain's parliament on Wednesday failed to quell speculation that a senior government minister is poised to launch a leadership challenge against embattled Prime Minister Keir Starmer. The monarch's address opening a new parliamentary session was overshadowed by reports that allies of Health Secretary Wes Streeting had said he was preparing to resign to trigger a contest to oust Starmer from office.

The Labour party leader had seen off an immediate threat on Tuesday despite four junior ministers resigning and more than 80 MPs urging him to quit, when no one broke ranks to formally challenge him. But shortly before King Charles read out Starmer's forthcoming legislative plans from a golden throne in the upper House of Lords, UK media reported that 43-year-old Streetering was preparing to quit government on Thursday to run for the top job.

The reports came after Streeting met Starmer at Downing Street early Wednesday for talks that lasted less than 20 minutes. A spokesman for Streeting did not respond to a request for comment from AFP. Open warfare has broken out in the Labour party over Starmer's future following disastrous local election results last week.

The ballot-box drubbing followed months of scandal regarding the appointment, and sacking, of ex-Jeffrey Epstein associate Peter Mandelson as envoy to the US.

Some 110 Labour MPs have signed a statement saying now is not the time for a leadership contest — highlighting the deep divisions that Starmer's team hope can keep him in power.

Other plans include fully nationalising British steel, reforming the asylum system, lowering the voting age to 16 and cracking down on ticket touts. But questions remain over whether Starmer will even be around to implement them. AFP
