8 Naxals held, 5 lay down arms in Gadchiroli

Gadchiroli: Five Naxal functionaries with a total bounty of ₹38 lakh on their heads surrendered in Maharashtra's Gadchiroli district, a police official said Saturday. Police also said eight Maoists from Maharashtra, Telangana and Chhattisgarh were arrested during a series of intelligence-based operations conducted jointly with the Central Reserve Police Force. The Gadchiroli police said no Maoist now remains on its official 'wanted' records after the launch of 'Operation Antim Prahar' (Final Strike). The eight Maoists were arrested in operations carried out under the leadership of Superintendent of Police M Ramesh.

Hyderabad: A day after the Telangana High Court refused to grant interim relief to Bandi Bageerath, who has been booked under a POCSO case, his father and Union Minister Bandi Sanjay Kumar Saturday said he has asked his son to appear before the police and join the probe. In a statement, Bandi Sanjay said he had asked his son to cooperate with the police soon after the complaint was registered last week. However, Bageerath, who has been repeatedly maintaining that he has done no wrongdoing, presented evidence in his favour to his lawyers, the union minister said. According to Bandi Sanjay, the lawyers opined that the case would be quashed and that Bageerath would get bail, which led to the delay.

The incident came days after four members of a family died in Mumbai due to suspected poisoning hours after eating the fruit.

The deceased was identified as Indra Singh Parihar (43), a native of Agar Malwa district who was in the transport business and lived in Sheopur with his family.

His sons Raja and Vinod helped him in the business, said Kotwali police house officer Satyam Singh Gurjar.

According to Raja Parihar, the family had pumpkin 'sabzi' for dinner Thursday night. At around 5 am Friday, Indra Singh and Vinod (21) felt uneasy, and to get relief they ate a few slices of a watermelon kept in the house.

Both of them fell sick shortly afterwards and were admitted to the district hospital.

Doctors referred Indra Singh to Kota due to his critical condition but he died on the way, said the police official. Vinod Parihar was undergoing treatment at the district hospital and was on ventilator support, Gurjar said. The post-mortem examination report of Indra Singh was awaited, the official said.
