

Shashi Tharoor @ShashiTharoor

A wonderful hour-long conversation with Kerala Chief Minister @vdsatheesan today in Delhi. We discussed the way forward for our state's development in extensive detail. He requested my help and policy advice in wide range of areas and I pledged my fullest cooperation to work with him to bring about a transformed Kerala. Since he is a tireless reader, I presented to him my most recent work on See Narayana Guru—he agreed with me that a book is always better than a bouquet!

UDF govt open-minded on foreign, pvt varsities: Min

Roji says aim is to make the higher edu sector globally competitive

SOVI VIDYADHARAN @T'Puram

KEEPING an “open mind” on allowing foreign universities in Kerala and restructuring the controversial Four-Year Undergraduate Programme (FYUGP) will be among the key priorities of the new UDF government, Higher Education Minister Roji M John has said.

In an interview, the minister said the government was willing to consider both private and foreign universities to stem the growing exodus of students from Kerala and make the state's higher education sector globally competitive.

“We are open-minded on foreign universities. It is our responsibility to provide what our students need in Kerala,” he said, adding that students today seek global exposure and better academic opportunities.

Describing the migration of students outside Kerala as a “serious issue”, Roji said the government would focus on identifying the reasons behind the trend and improving institutions in the state.

“We have a responsibility to find out why they are leaving Kerala. We are committed to changing Kerala's higher education sector to make it attractive to students, enabling a major chunk of them to stay in the state,” he said.

Clarifying that the UDF had not opposed the previous LDF government's bill on private universities, Roji said the front had pointed out the shortcomings in the legislation and would come up with a policy decision after discussions. “We are open to considering both private and foreign universities,” he reiterated.

On the Four-Year Undergraduate Programme (FYUGP), which has faced criticism from sections of teachers and students, Roji indicated that the government planned to review and restructure the programme. “Widespread criticism exists that FYUGP was rolled out without adequate preparatory work. We believe FYUGP should be reviewed and the changes implemented,” he said.

The minister also accused the previous LDF government of excessively politicising the higher education sector and compromising on quality in the process. “There is nothing wrong with having a political outlook. However, quality should never be compromised,” he said, alleging that nepotism had adversely affected standards in the sector.

On the prolonged controversy surrounding vice-chancellor appointments, Roji said the government would seek solutions through discussions with the advocate general.

He pointed out that many universities were currently functioning under in-charge VCs due to pending litigation, affecting students and other stakeholders.

Seeking to distance the UDF government from the frequent confrontations witnessed during the previous LDF regime, the minister stressed the need for cooperation in university administration. “We don't want unnecessary squabbles. We can reach consensus on matters where there is commonality and clearly express our opinions whenever we need to disagree,” he said.

Roji also said the government planned to standardise the functioning of university syndicates and senates and strengthen skill-oriented education through programmes such as ASAP to improve student employability.

77.97%: State improves Plus-II results

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @T'Puram

THE state registered a marginally higher success rate from last year in the Higher Secondary Second Year (Plus-II) examination, the results of which were announced on Tuesday.

The pass percentage this year stood at 77.97%, 0.16% points higher than last year's 77.81%. Of the 3.72 lakh students who appeared for the exam, 2.9 lakh qualified for higher studies.

Announcing the results, General Education Minister N Samsudheen said the 2,90,381 students who became eligible for higher studies included 1,67,475 girls and 1,22,906 boys who registered success rates of 86.89% and 68.41%, respectively. The number of students who secured A+ in all subjects also rose marginally this year to 30,561 from 30,145 last year.

Among the A+ holders in all subjects, 23,095 were girls and 7,466 were boys. The list of full A+ holders comprised 22,970 students from the science stream, 2,327 students from humanities and 5,264 students from commerce stream. As many as 60 students received a full score of 1200/1200. Fifty of them were girls.

In the science stream, as many as 1,58,836 (84.52%) candidates qualified for higher studies from the 1,87,933 who appeared for the examination. In the Humanities stream, 50,398 (66.38%) candidates out

UDF to take policy decision on PM SHRI: Min

T'PURAM : A decision on whether the new government should go ahead with the Centrally sponsored PM SHRI project will be known only after the UDF takes a policy decision on the matter, General Education Minister N Samsudheen has clarified. “The previous government had signed PM SHRI MoU but had requested the Centre to keep it in abeyance when the matter turned controversial. We need to examine its legal and other aspects in detail and arrive at a decision. The chief minister will announce the UDF's policy soon,” he told reporters.

1 more AIADMK MLA joins TVK

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

AMBASAMUDRAM MLA Esakki Subaya, considered a key AIADMK figure in the south, resigned as legislator and joined the ruling TVK on Tuesday, taking the number of rebel MLAs who quit their posts and joined the ruling party in the last two days to four. Speaker JCD Prabhakar accepted his resignation.

The steady stream of resignations has triggered horse-trading allegations from opposition parties DMK and AIADMK while deeply unsettling the ruling alliance. Coalition partners Congress and VCK on Tuesday condemned the developments as “unhealthy politics”, and the Left parties, which support the Vijay government from the outside, have also expressed strong dissatisfaction. TVK leader and Revenue Minister KA Sengottaiyan, however, firmly dismissed the accusations. Responding to the developments, CPM state secretary P Shanmugam said that though the MLAs had resigned and joined TVK of their volition, “We are unable to see it as a move without anticipating anything in return.”

TN Chief Minister Vijay to meet PM Modi in New Delhi today

Chennai: Chief Minister C Joseph Vijay will visit New Delhi on Wednesday for the first time since assuming office and is scheduled to meet Prime Minister Narendra Modi at 4.30 pm. As is customary for newly-elected CMs, Vijay is expected to submit a memorandum to the PM on the needs of the state. The memorandum is likely to include requests related to major infrastructure projects promised in the TVK's election manifesto, including the completion of the Madurai-Thoothukudi industrial corridor and expansion of the Kulasekarapattinam spaceport. Vijay is also likely to call on senior Congress leaders Sonia Gandhi and Rahul Gandhi.
