CABINET HAILS MODI

ance coverage of up to Rs 5 lakh for more than 60 crore beneficiaries.

On women-centric policies, the resolution referred to schemes such as Ujjwala, PM Awas Yojana, Lakhpati Didi and the law providing 33% reservation for women in the Lok Sabha and state assemblies. For farmers, it cited PM-Kisan, higher minimum support prices (MSP), irrigation projects and agricultural export growth. It said India had become the world's third-largest startup ecosystem and praised programmes such as Startup India, Skill India and the Chandrayaan lunar missions.

The Cabinet also praised several major decisions taken by the Modi government, including the abrogation of Article 370 in Jammu and Kashmir, implementation of the Goods and Services Tax (GST), One Rank One Pension (OROP), the Citizenship Amendment Act (CAA), criminal law reforms and labour law consolidation.

On national security, the resolution credited Modi's leadership for actions such as the 2016 surgical strikes, the 2019 Balakot airstrike and the recent Operation Sindoor.

"The Prime Minister has given a new dimension to national security," the resolution said, adding that "the credit for taking firm measures against terrorism goes entirely to his leadership." The Cabinet also welcomed the government's decision to place the Indus Waters Treaty with Pakistan in a suspended state, saying, "Now India's water will be useful to the farmers of India."

The resolution said India's global influence had increased under Modi's leadership, citing the country's G20 presidency, promotion of International Yoga Day and initiatives such as the International Solar Alliance. It also highlighted infrastructure projects including the new Parliament building, Kartavya Path and Kartavya Bhawan as symbols of a "new India," and a symbol of leaving behind a colonial mindset.

In its formal resolution, the Union Cabinet congratulated Modi on the achievement, appreciated his "tireless hard work" in service of the nation, backed his vision of building a "Viksit Bharat" and extended wishes for his "good health and long life."

"The Union Cabinet expresses confidence that under the leadership of Hon'ble Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi, India will continue to scale new heights as a self-reliant, secure, prosperous, and proud nation, and will strengthen the path towards becoming a developed nation by 2047," the resolution read.

US STRIKES IRAN

before it cracks.

It was not clear what Trump's post on Truth Social would mean for Tehran. The comments again underlined Trump's whipsaw approach to the war, after suggesting on Monday that a deal to end the conflict could be reached in a matter of days.

Iran, meanwhile, has proved resilient despite having faced weeks of heavy bombing, betting that its ability to effectively close the Strait of Hormuz — a crucial passageway for the world's oil and natural gas — gives it a strong bargaining chip.

Still, both countries seem to be looking for a way to end the conflict — if they can manage to sell it as a win at home. But Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu appears intent on pursuing much more difficult goals: the collapse of Iran's theocratic government, the elimination of its nuclear program, and the destruction of the Iranian-allied Hezbollah militant group in Lebanon. That will make compromise much harder.

Netanyahu posted on X around the same time as Trump, again insisting that Iran could never have a nuclear weapon and defending Israel's decisions to attack the Islamic Republic in the past.

Since the U.S. and Israel started the war with attacks on Iran on Feb. 28, the conflict has shaken the global economy, driven up energy prices around the world, and made many basics, including food, more expensive. Brent crude oil, the international standard, was at more than $91 a barrel on Wednesday, up more than 25% since the start of the war.

In the latest strikes, U.S. fighter jets targeted "air defense, ground control stations, and surveillance radar sites," the military's Central Command said. Iran acknowledged strikes around Bandar Abbas and Qeshm Island, but gave no details on the damage.

"The operation was a proportional response to recent attacks on U.S. forces and international commercial ships transiting regional waters," Central Command said.

Iran's top diplomat vowed that there would be a response, and Tehran later claimed attacks in Kuwait, Bahrain and Jordan.

Jordan said it shot down five incoming missiles, which Iran said targeted the Muwaffaq Salti Air Base. The base has hosted American F-35 fighter jets and other aircraft. Jordan's state-run Petra news agency carried a military statement saying there were no injuries.

Bahrain and Kuwait said they intercepted incoming fire, without elaborating.

Iranian Foreign Minister Abbas Araghchi condemned the American attacks as a violation of Iranian sovereignty in calls with his counterparts from Turkey and Saudi Arabia "and emphasized the inherent right of self-defense, including reciprocal action," according to a post on his office's Telegram channel.

Foreign Ministry spokesperson Esmail Baghaei said in televised comments Wednesday that in light of the new attacks, Iran would review its stance on negotiations to end the war.

The exchanges of fire came a day after a U.S. Army attack helicopter crashed near the Strait of Hormuz after colliding with an Iranian drone, according to a U.S. official, who spoke on condition of anonymity to discuss an ongoing investigation. It wasn't clear whether the collision was intentional.

A drone boat rescued both of the helicopter's crew, and Trump said they were uninjured.

Before he accused Iran of downing the U.S. helicopter, Trump expressed renewed optimism over negotiations with Iran, though he didn't say why there was reason for hope.

While Trump, wary of high gas prices and upcoming congressional elections in November, seems to be looking for a quick win, he is also making demands that will be tough for Iran to swallow.

The U.S. wants to see Iran give up its stockpile of highly enriched uranium. While Iran insists its nuclear program is peaceful, that uranium is a short, technical step from weapons-grade levels.

Iran is refusing to give up the uranium and demanding relief from sanctions. It also wants the release of frozen assets even before a final agreement is in place, something rejected by Trump.

It's not clear how those differences can be bridged — and Trump has repeatedly threatened to walk away from the talks. His latest Truth Social post accused Iran of taking "too long to negotiate a deal that would have been great for them, now they will have to pay the price!"

Meanwhile, Iran has continued to insist that any deal to end the war must also end fighting between its ally Hezbollah and Israel. Instead, Israel has intensified its military campaign against the militant group.

Israel's military said on Wednesday it launched multiple strikes in southern Lebanon over the past day, targeting Hezbollah infrastructure.

An airstrike on a village east of Tyre killed at least six people, Lebanon's state-run National News Agency reported.

Guards aboard a cargo ship off the coast of Yemen in the Gulf of Aden exchanged fire with gunmen in a small boat and repelled their attack, the British military's United Kingdom Maritime Trade Operations center said.

No group immediately claimed responsibility. Yemen's Iran-backed Houthi rebels have said they will resume their attacks against Israel-affiliated ships in the Red Sea. Somali pirates have also become more active in the region.
