

Rave party case: Govt transfers Kullu DC, SP

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

SHIMLA, AUGUST 5

The Himachal Pradesh government on Wednesday transferred Kullu Deputy Commissioner Anurag Sharma and Superintendent of Police Madan Lal in compliance with the Himachal High Court's directions to facilitate an impartial inquiry into the alleged holding of rave parties in the forests near Manali.

The transfers came after the Supreme Court declined to grant relief to the two officers against the High Court's order directing the state government to shift them. The matter is scheduled to come up for hearing before the High Court on Thursday.

The government has appointed 2019-batch IPS officer Abhishek S, who was

WHAT LED TO THE SHAKE-UP

■ The alleged rave parties held in the forests near Kasol have triggered one of the strongest judicial interventions in recent times. Besides ordering an FIR and an SIT probe, the High Court directed the transfer of the Kullu Deputy Commissioner, Superintendent of Police and the concerned SDM to ensure an independent investigation

■ Calling the episode a "classic case of abject surrender", the court observed that the conduct of officials appeared to "smack of collusion" with organisers. The transfers ordered by the government are being seen as compliance with the court's directions ahead of Thursday's hearing serving as Superintendent of Police (Law and Order) at the Police Headquarters, as the new Superintendent of Police, Kullu. Madan Lal has been directed to report to the State Police Headquarters until further orders. The additional charge of Deputy Commissioner, Kullu, has been entrusted to Surjit Rathore, with the government expected to appoint a regular Deputy Commissioner at a later stage.

The transfers are being viewed as the government's compliance with the High Court's directions, which held that shifting the Deputy Commissioner and Superintendent of Police was necessary to ensure a fair and independent investigation into the alleged illegal events.

The controversy relates to large-scale music festivals allegedly organised at Green Forest-I and Green Forest-II near Grahani village, close to Kasol, between June 7 and June 11 this year. According to the High Court, the events drew thousands of participants from across India and abroad after charging substantial entry fees.

Taking suo motu cognisance following a complaint by a local resident, the High Court had expressed serious concern over the conduct of the district administration and law enforcement agencies. It directed the state government to transfer the Deputy Commissioner, Superintendent of Police and the concerned Sub-Divisional Magistrate within a week to ensure an impartial inquiry.

The court had also ordered the registration of an FIR and the constitution of a Special Investigation Team (SIT) to investigate the alleged rave parties and examine possible violations of law. In strongly worded observations, the High Court described the episode as a "classic case of abject surrender" and remarked that the conduct of the officials "smacks of collusion" with the organisers, prompting judicial intervention into the matter.

Govt raises pay of contract specialist doctors by 78%

SHIMLA, AUGUST 5

In a bid to strengthen healthcare services, the state government has approved a 78 per cent increase in the monthly salary of contract and Job Trainee Medical Officer (JTMO) specialists.

With the decision, the monthly salary of JTMO specialists has been raised from Rs 33,660 to Rs 60,000. Earlier, following the implementation of the Sixth Pay Commission recommendations in 2022, their salary had been increased from around Rs 27,000 to Rs 33,660.

The move is expected to encourage specialist doctors to serve in government healthcare institutions and improve the availability of quality healthcare services, particularly in remote areas. The government said it was taking continuous steps to strengthen the healthcare sector and reduce the need for patients to seek treatment outside the state.

Monthly pay increased to ₹60,000 to attract specialists to govt hospitals

Chief Minister Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu said healthcare and education remained among the government's top priorities. He said the government was expanding modern medical infrastructure while addressing the shortage of doctors and other healthcare personnel.

The CM said the government had also enhanced the monthly stipend of postgraduate medical students in government medical colleges. —TNS

BJP launches sustained protest campaign to corner Cong govt

SHIMLA, AUGUST 5

The BJP on Wednesday intensified its offensive against the Congress government by staging a protest demonstration in Shimla, accusing it of pursuing politics of vendetta, corruption, anti-people policies, deteriorating law and order and misuse of democratic institutions.

The protest was led by Leader of Opposition and former Chief Minister Jai Ram Thakur along with state BJP president Rajeev Bindal. BJP MLAs, party office-bearers and a large number of workers and supporters from across the state participated in the demonstration.

The protesters marched towards the Chief Minister's official residence, raising slogans against the Congress government. They later staged a dharna outside the residence, demanding the dismissal of the state government.

Addressing the gathering, Thakur alleged that the Congress government had halted development works and welfare schemes immediately after assuming office. He claimed that despite being in power for nearly four years, the government continued to follow a "politics of closure and disruption" instead of focusing on governance and public welfare.

The former Chief Minister also accused the state government of misusing the administration to settle political scores by registering false criminal cases against BJP leaders and workers. He alleged that officials were being pressured to lodge FIRs even in cases where no legal grounds existed, solely to target political opponents.

Thakur claimed that cases had been registered against Bindal, MLAs Sudhir Sharma and Ashish Sharma, former MLAs Hoshyar Singh and Rajendra Rana, besides several other BJP leaders and even their family members. He warned officials against acting under political pressure, saying accountability would be fixed when the BJP returned to power.

Announcing an intensified agitation, Bindal said the BJP would organise protest demonstrations every month in every Assembly constituency and every party Mandal to expose what he described as the anti-people policies of the Congress government.

He alleged that employees, pensioners, outsourced workers, daily wages, farmers, women, youth and senior citizens had all been neglected.

NegirejectsBJP's vendetta charge

SHIMLA, AUGUST 5

Revenue Minister Jagat Singh Negi on Wednesday dismissed the BJP's allegations of political vendetta by the Congress government, asserting that anyone who feels victimised has the option of approaching the High Court for justice. He said FIRs are being registered strictly in accordance with the law and there was no reason for innocent people to fear action.

Addressing mediapersons here, Negi turned the tables on the BJP, alleging that central agencies such as the ED and CBI have been widely misused in BJP-ruled states to implicate political opponents. "Protests over lawful action are not in the interest of democracy. If there is no evidence against anyone, they have nothing to worry about. The courts are always available for those seeking justice," he said.

The Revenue Minister also criticised BJP leaders for allegedly intimidating government officials. "Whether the BJP returns to power or not is a different matter, but threatening officials is completely unacceptable and undermines democratic functioning," he remarked.

Negi further accused the BJP-led Centre of discriminating against Himachal Pradesh by curtailing financial support. He alleged that the Union Government had withdrawn the Revenue Deficit Grant (RDG), imposed restrictions on the state's borrowing capacity and failed to provide adequate disaster relief, amounting to "stepmotherly treatment" towards the state. —TNS

Tax row stalls revived India-China trade

PRATIBHA CHAUHAN

SHIMLA, AUGUST 5

The resumption of the historic Indo-China border trade through Shipki La after a six-year hiatus has run into fresh trouble, with traders in Kinnaur announcing a complete boycott of the trade in protest against the levy of Integrated Goods and Services Tax (IGST) on imported goods.

The Kinnaur Indo-China Trade Association on Wednesday unanimously resolved that none of the registered traders would participate in border trade with China through the 18,599-foot-high pass until the Centre exempts the trade from IGST, just as it has already exempted it from customs duty.

The decision was taken at an emergency meeting convened after the association received a communication from the Customs Department informing traders that IGST would be applicable on goods imported through the border trade route.

The traders contend that the imposition of IGST will make the traditional trade commercially unviable. They argue that the border trade through Shipki La is not a conventional import-export business but a centuries-old barter system and a confidence-building measure between India and China, aimed at sustaining the livelihoods of remote border communities.

Association president Hishey Negi said Customs Duty on goods imported through the notified border trade route had been exempted since July 23, 1996, in recognition of the unique nature of the trade. However, the introduction of IGST has significantly increased the financial burden on traders.

He said the trade is carried out under extremely challenging conditions, with goods transported largely on mules across rugged Himalayan terrain during a short trading season. Given the limited volume of trade, high transportation costs and difficult geographical conditions, the additional tax burden would make the exercise economically unviable.

"The objective of border trade has never been purely commercial. It is intended to strengthen frontier areas, preserve traditional trading practices, generate employment and improve the economic well-being of people living in remote border villages," Negi said.
