Community kitchens to replace banner politics in Kerala hospitals
ALAPPUZHA, KERALA

Kerala Health Minister K. M. Mani said that Community Kitchens will be introduced in government hospitals to streamline the distribution of free meals to patients and their attendants, while ensuring transparency and eliminating political branding from the process.

The initiative will be placed at Alappuzha Medical College. Distribution of food packs under the banners or flags of political parties or organisations would no longer be permitted within hospital premises. Instead, all voluntary food distribution would be channelled through a unified Community Kitchen system," said Mani.

The announcement comes days after a strongly worded Facebook post by veteran former CPI(M) leader and former minister G. Sudhakaran, who had questioned the prevailing system of food distribution at Alappuzha Medical College.

CONSPIRACY

A probe revealed that Damini was in frequent contact with a school driver named Tushar, alias Nikki, on mobile phone, police said. During interrogation, it was revealed that the two were in a relationship and hatched a plan to kill Panwar, they added. Kumar said Atul, as part of the plan, was given an overdose of sleeping pills mixed with milk the night before the incident. Subsequently, Damini's lover Tushar, with the help of two associates — Sonu and Uday — brought a snake and released it into Atul's blanket, resulting in his death.

REASON
Police said that the wife, Damini, had conspired with her lover and two others to kill Atul Panwar, who was treated as an obstacle to their romantic relationship, and to claim insurance money. Panwar (35) and Damini had a love marriage in 2016, and they both lived in Hastnagar, where they ran the Krishna Kids Public School.

Superintendent of Police (Rural) Abhijit Kumar said that Panwar was taken to a nearby Community Health Centre on Friday morning after allegedly being bitten by a snake at his house, and was later pronounced dead. Kumar said that a snake was found on his bed, but the family members suspected foul play, prompting the police to launch an investigation.

Police said the investigation also revealed that Atul held a life insurance policy worth approximately Rs 20 lakh. It is alleged that Sonu and Uday, who were involved in the conspiracy, were promised Rs 5 lakh upon receipt of the insurance payout. According to the police, interrogation further revealed that about 20 days earlier, Tushar had attempted to kill Atul by hitting him with a car, but he survived because of his helmet. Police have arrested Damini, Tushar, Sonu, and Uday Kumar.
