After 6-hr Rahul sit-in, FIR filed on use of pellet guns

Rahul: First step towards justice; BJP calls protest diversionary ploy

PREETHA NAIR & NITIN RAWAT
@ New Delhi

DELHI Police on Friday registered a first information report (FIR) over pellet injuries suffered by a 19-year-old student during the July 20 Jantar Mantar protest after a nearly six-hour dharna by Congress leader Rahul Gandhi at Parliament Street police station demanding action in the case.

The day saw high drama with Rahul first accompanying injured student Sahil Lochab to Mandir Marg police station, and later moving to Parliament Street police station after his demand for an FIR was not accepted. While Rahul refused to budge until the FIR was registered, he was joined by several Congress leaders, including Priyanka Gandhi, Salman Khurshid, Jairam Ramesh and many others.

"This is the first step towards justice and a case has been registered," Rahul said after the FIR was lodged, asserting that he would continue to fight for justice for Lochab and other students injured during the Jantar Mantar protests. Police said a case was filed under Sections 118(1), relating to voluntarily causing grievous hurt by dangerous weapons or means, and 125, concerning acts endangering life, of the BNS.

CJP co-convenor Ashutosh Ranka and party volunteers were allegedly assaulted on Friday while travelling to inspect a dilapidated government school in Jaipur's Bagru Assembly constituency. Ranka described the attack as pre-planned, and demanded the arrest of the culprits within 48 hours | P10 demanding the resignation of then education minister Dhamendra Pradhan on July 20.

Rahul alleged that police officers at the station were willing to register the case but had been stopped. Earlier, after talks with DCP Sachin Sharma failed, Rahul began his sit-in and showed Lochab's medical reports to prove his point.

Union minister J P Nadda and other BJP leaders called the Congress protest as "diversionary" politics.

Revanth cancels US leg of trip after govt denies political nod

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

TELANGANA Chief Minister A Revanth Reddy's proposed visit to the United States was denied political clearance as the programme was "not considered appropriate to the office he holds and the stated purpose of the visit", the External Affairs Ministry (MEA) said on Friday.

The clarification came hours after the Telangana Chief Minister's Office (CMO) announced that Reddy had been forced to cancel the US leg of his ongoing foreign tour after the Centre declined permission for the visit.

"Let me say that the visit of chief ministers, as indeed of other dignitaries, are assessed by the Ministry of External Affairs in order to accord political clearance," MEA spokesperson Randhir Jaiswal said. "The programme proposed, in such cases, should be appropriate to the office held and the purpose of the visit. In this particular case, that was not so in respect of US... clearance was denied."

Reddy is currently in London as part of his "Telangana Rising" tour. He was scheduled to travel to the US from August 23, with planned engagements in Boston and New York aimed at exploring partnerships between Telangana and leading American educational institutions.

Reddy's office said he would now return to Hyderabad from London instead of proceeding to the US. "The CM will return from London to Hyderabad on August 23 instead of leaving for Boston, NY," the statement said. According to the Telangana government, it had sought the Centre's nod for the UK and US visits in accordance with "policy and protocol", but clearance was granted only for the UK leg.

Reddy had said the proposed US visit was aimed at exploring the possibility of bringing leading American universities and educational institutions to Telangana. Despite the cancellation, Reddy instructed state officials accompanying his delegation to proceed with the planned US engagements and pursue deals with institutions including Harvard University, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Northeastern University and Virginia Tech.

We should all think beyond politics when it comes to nation building and future of the youth... only purpose of visit was to bring the best institutions to India

Revanth Reddy, CM

Not sans precedence

The denial of clearance is not without precedent. The External Affairs ministry in the recent past declined political clearance for foreign visits by chief ministers, including Arvind Kejriwal and Mamata Banerjee while they were serving as chief ministers of Delhi and West Bengal, respectively

China stake ease draws ₹5K cr FDI proposals

PUSHPITA DEY @ New Delhi

WITHIN months of relaxing rules for investments involving Chinese beneficial ownership, India has received 29 foreign direct investment (FDI) proposals worth ₹4,895.65 crore as of August 20 across various sectors, including information technology, artificial intelligence, manufacturing, pharmaceuticals, data centres and transport services, the government said on Friday.

Rules were relaxed in March to ease investment procedures with up to 10% beneficial ownership by Chinese investors. The change in rules aimed at providing greater certainty to foreign investors and reducing the time required to complete investment transactions.

Investments have also been proposed from various other jurisdictions, including Mauritius, the United States, South Korea, Japan, Singapore, Luxembourg and Cayman Islands.

Under the revised framework, investors are required to report relevant information to the government but do not need prior approval, provided they comply with sectoral caps, entry routes and other applicable conditions.

El Nino set to be strongest in over a century

Head of forecasting: Never seen an El Nino signal this intense forecasts

LONDON

THIS year's El Nino weather pattern will be the biggest in over a century and could make 2027 the hottest year globally, Britain's national weather agency predicted on Friday. An El Nino weather event happens when warming sea surface temperatures in the tropical eastern Pacific trigger worldwide changes in winds, atmospheric pressure and rainfall, as well as higher global temperatures overall.

Adam Scaife, head of long-range forecasting at the weather agency, told the BBC: "We are expecting the biggest El Nino for over a century, peaking at something over three degrees — that is unheard of in modern climate records."

People pass through a water mist machine in Bucharest, Romania | AP

This means Pacific water would heat up more than 3C above the norm in the coming months. El Nino occurs when water temperatures rise at least 0.5C above the baseline. While it is part of a natural cycle, scientists agree climate change increases its impacts. A record El Nino would be "adding to the stresses of climate change" following a summer of heatwaves across Europe, the Met Office said. Temperatures in the Pacific region are currently running about 2.6C above a rolling 30-year average, according to the Climate Brink dashboard based on data from the US National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration.

The dashboard also aggregates forecasts that put El Nino on course to peak at a 3.9C anomaly this November — well above a 3C anomaly detected in 2015. "We should be clear that this is an unprecedented event," British scientist Scaife said in a Met Office blog. If the forecast is accurate, then 2026 "will far exceed our recent experience of El Nino and its worldwide climate influences", said the physicist. "I have never seen an El Nino signal this intense in our forecasts," he added.
