Oppn slams Pb govt over LPU violence; Jakhar seeks NIA probe

AAP 'Mischief' To Punish Mittal For Leaving Party: Sukhbir

Times News Network

Chandigarh: The opposition on Monday hit out at governing AAP govt over the violence at Lovely Professional University (LPU) in Phagwara, questioning the alleged role of outsiders and slamming the police for failing to maintain law and order.

Former Punjab BJP president Sunil Jakhar sought a National Investigation Agency (NIA) probe to "identify any external or internal forces following the involvement of armed outsiders". "It should be examined whether someone exploited the students' emotions to settle a political score, or whether agents of separatists based in a neighbouring country or operating from other foreign countries tried to inflame tensions in Punjab," Jakhar said. He questioned if "people afraid of political implications of Union home minister Amit Shah's visit to Jalandhar tried to disturb the atmosphere by playing with the students' future?"

Protest had erupted on the LPU campus on Sunday

Shah is scheduled to visit Jalandhar on Sept 30 on the concluding day of BJP's 'Nasha Mukt Punjab Yatras'.

Addressing a SAD political conference in Rajasansi, Amritsar, as part of party's Punjab Bachao campaign, SAD president Sukhbir Singh Badal alleged AAP engineered the unrest to target LPU chancellor and Rajya Sabha MP Ashok Kumar Mittal after his switch from AAP to BJP. Mittal, founder of LPU, joined the saffron party in April. Badal alleged the violence and arson were part of an AAP "mischief" intended to punish Mittal for leaving the party.

Punjab Congress president Amrinder Singh Raja Warring demanded an independent probe into campus violence, noting that "there appeared to be a pattern in the violence in the two university campuses". "It is also an ominous sign and yet another example of the complete collapse of law and order in the state," he said.

AAP: Student safety govt's top priority

Times News Network

Chandigarh: The Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) on Monday hailed the Punjab Police for handling the sensitive situation involving students at Lovely Professional University (LPU) with "restraint and professionalism".

Baltej Pannu, the AAP Punjab media in charge, stated that the Bhagwant Mann govt's priority was the safety of every student studying in Punjab. He said the special investigation team (SIT) constituted to probe the matter should be allowed to complete its investigation and establish the complete facts.

Referring to the incidents at LPU and Chitkara University, Pannu pointed out, "When the situation escalated, and the highway was blocked, the Punjab Police did not use excessive force against the students. No force, such as batons or pellet guns, was used against them. Instead, they were treated like our own sons and daughters. It took some time, but the situation was handled professionally."

He added, "CM Mann directed DGP Gaurav Yadav to personally visit LPU and assess the situation. The DGP visited the university and reviewed the situation. Senior police officers were also continuously engaging with the students and student leaders to understand what had happened and to bring the situation under control."

"We should allow the SIT to complete its investigation. Whatever information emerges will be shared with the people through senior Punjab Police officers and the govt. The SIT is examining the allegations as well as the circumstances surrounding the unrest" Pannu said. He also accused opposition leaders of politicising a sensitive matter involving students.

Calm returns to Chitkara campus

Patiala: Days after violent protests and vehicle vandalism rocked Chitkara University over unfounded rumours of missing students and "paranormal" occurrences, normalcy has largely returned to the campus.

Police said no criminal cases have been registered against students so far, while university authorities said they had strengthened communication channels with students.

Banur SHO inspector Gursevak Singh said no fresh agitation took place on Monday. "No FIR has been registered against any student, and currently there is no protest underway. However, on Sunday night, a group of students staged a sit-in on the campus, although a detailed inquiry had already been concluded and all claims were found to be false," he said.

Chitkara University registrar Col Rakesh Sharma (retd) also said the campus was peaceful and orderly. Sharma said the administration had stepped up proactive engagement with hostellers. TNN

Pb Women's Commission seeks reports

Times News Network

Chandigarh: Taking suo motu cognisance of incidents involving student protests at LPU and Chitkara University, the Punjab State Women Commission on Monday sought detailed reports from the respective district and police administrations, including copies of FIRs and details of measures taken to ensure students' safety on the campuses.

Regarding the situation at LPU in Phagwara, Kapurthala district, following reports of an alleged sexual assault and subsequent student protests and clashes, the commission directed the Kapurthala deputy commissioner and senior superintendent of police to submit a comprehensive report by Sept 30.

Mann backing Amritpal party, alleges Sukhbir

Yudhvir Rana | TNN

Rajasansi (Amritsar): SAD chief Sukhbir Singh Badal on Monday against attacked jailed MP Amritpal Singh-led Akali Dal Waris Punjab De, accusing it of working to divide the Panthic vote and benefit AAP. Addressing a gathering during Punjab Bachao campaign, Badal alleged Amritpal's party was being supported by CM Bhagwant Mann and questioned its leadership's alleged silence on issues involving the state govt.

He also targeted Amritpal's father, Tarsem Singh, over his alleged political associations and made allegations concerning the family's past political support. Turning to farmers, Badal promised crop insurance if the SAD returned to power, saying it would provide compensation for crop losses caused by natural calamities.

He announced plans to fill 3 lakh vacant govt posts and said recruitment rules would be changed to prioritise Punjabis for state govt jobs, while industries would be required to employ 75% Punjabis.

16,000 join fast against drugs

Bathinda: Marking Bhagat Singh's birth anniversary, Lok Sankalp organised 'Inquilab 28', a one-day fast against the social acceptance of substance use. The campaign drew 16,282 registrations, representing 4,716 families from 1,964 villages and cities across Rajasthan and 15 other states, including Punjab, with participants pledging to combat substance use.
