

Kerala orders Vigilance inquiry against Gyanesh

SHAN AS @ T'Pukam

the State Home Department has summoned files pertaining to the Vigilance Bureau's preliminary enquiry against Chief Election Commissioner Gyanesh Kumar in 2006, when he was serving as Works Secretary in the State

The move gains immense political significance in the wake of ongoing protests by the INDIA Bloc against the CEC for pushing the Special Intensive Revision of electoral rolls. The State Vigilance and Anti Corruption Bureau had carried out a preliminary probe against Gyanesh following the suicide of a Malaysian civil engineer in 2006.

Sources revealed that the home department asked for files related to the enquiry that was launched following the suicide of Lee See Been, who had served as chief project manager for PATI-BEL, an Indo-Malaysian consortium involved in upgrading the MC Road under the multi-billion Kerala State Transport Project. Lee committed suicide in Kuala Lumpur apparently after his bids to get the bills cleared were stone-walled.

The Minister said the government is working on the 3S principle including Speed of Doing Busi-

He said the roadshow would help encourage leading companies from Maharashtra to participate in the Visakhapatnam summit and explore investment opportunities in Andhra Pradesh.

Revanth vows to demolish Sircilla 'gadi' in next polls

In an official statement released by party's central office on Wednesday, the party announced that all previously appointed parliamentary coordinators committees dissolved with immediate effect.

However, the party clarified that the state-level five-member coordination committee and the election campaign committees recently appointed polls.
