

138 Bn CRPF conducts civic action prog, basic tailoring skill development training at Daporijo

DAPORIJO, Oct 08: As part of its ongoing efforts towards community outreach, welfare and skill development, 138 Bn CRPF conducted a Civic Action Programme (CAP) 2026-27 at Daporijo, District Upper Subansiri, today. Under the programme, a one-week basic tailoring skill development training was imparted from October 1 to 8 to local boys, girls and villagers residing within the Area of Responsibility (AOR) of E/138 Bn, Daporijo.

Under the guidance of Rajesh Sankhla, Commandant, 138 Bn CRPF, the training programme was inaugurated by Bhanupriya Gurjar, SDPO, Upper Subansiri, at E/138 Bn Camp, Daporijo, on October 1. Lukchi Kamcham, Deputy SP (APPS), Daporijo, was also present on the occasion.

The training aimed to impart practical tailoring skills to the local population and create opportunities for self-employment and sustainable livelihood.

The closing ceremony was graced by Rajesh Sankhla, Commandant, 138 Bn CRPF; Pawan Kumar Yadav, SP, Upper Subansiri; Bhanupriya Gurjar, SDPO, Upper Subansiri; Lukchi Kamcham, Deputy SP (APPS), Daporijo, along with local representatives, civilian dignitaries and other prominent members of the local community. The Officer Commanding, E/138 Bn, briefed the gathering about the training programme and its objectives and expressed gratitude to all dignitaries and civilians for their valuable presence and support.

Addressing the gathering, Rajesh Sankhla, Commandant, 138 Bn CRPF, congratulated all the trainees on successfully completing the course and urged them to make effective use of the tailoring skills acquired during the training. He emphasised that the Civic Action Programme is not merely an activity for distribution of assistance, but is an initiative aimed at establishing a strong bond between the CRPF and the local community.

The Commandant further stated that CRPF personnel were deployed in the area for the security and welfare of the people and have come from within the country to serve alongside the local community. He said that through such programmes, CRPF seeks to reach the hearts and minds of the people and make them feel that CRPF is an integral part of their extended family. He expressed confidence that the support and cooperation of the local people would continue in the future and concluded his address by once again conveying his sincere thanks to all the dignitaries, civilian representatives and local residents for their presence and continued support.

Speaking on the occasion, SP Pawan Kumar Yadav appreciated the initiative and stated that Civic Action Programmes reflect the human approach of a security force and strengthen coordination between the CRPF, civil police and the local community. He appreciated the cordial relationship between CRPF and civil police and expressed hope that the beneficiaries would make proper use of the assistance provided.

As part of the concluding event, sewing machines with pedestal stands, along with stools and complete tailoring accessories, were handed over to the beneficiaries. The accessories included threads of various colours, small and big scissors, tailor measuring tapes, tailor chalk, sewing machine needles and hand-sewing needle sets. The equipment will enable the beneficiaries to continue tailoring activities and utilise their newly acquired skills for livelihood generation and self-employment.

The programme reflected the continued commitment of 138 Bn CRPF towards community engagement, skill enhancement, self-reliance and strengthening cordial relations with the local population. The initiative also reinforced the spirit of cooperation between the CRPF, civil administration, civil police and the local community for collective welfare and development.

Professor Lecture series on Contemporary Hindi Poetry held at Jawaharlal Nehru College, Pasighat

PASIGHAT, Oct 08: A Professor Lecture series was organised at Jawaharlal Nehru College, Pasighat today in the Conference Hall of the college. The programme was organised by the Central Hindi Directorate, Ministry of Education, Government of India in collaboration with the Post Graduate Department of Hindi and Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC), Jawaharlal Nehru College, Pasighat.

The lecture series provided an enriching academic platform for students, research scholars and faculty members to engage with contemporary Hindi poetry, particularly its emerging trends, marginalized voices and critical perspectives. The programme concluded on a positive note

The programme commenced with the arrival of the distinguished guests and faculty members, followed by a welcome song presented by BA 5th semester students. The guest was felicitated by the Head of the Department and Coordinator of the programme Dr Mumne Perme. The welcome address and introduction of the resource person were delivered by Dr HN Pandey, Head of the Department of Hindi.

The academic session featured an insightful lecture by Dr Arundhati, Subject Expert and Assistant Professor, Satyawati College, University of Delhi. The lecture focused on contemporary Hindi Poetry and its various dimensions. The technical sessions covered important themes.

The Programme was also addressed by Dr Leki Sitang, Vice-Principal and Dr Panda, IQAC Coordinator, JN College, Pasighat, who highlighted the importance of such academic initiatives in enriching students' understanding of contemporary literature.

The technical sessions were followed by an interactive session and discussion, in which students and faculty members actively participated and interacted with the resource person. The programme concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by the programme coordinator, Dr Mumne Perme, followed by the National Anthem and a group photograph.

Farmers of Dibang Valley made aware of cultivation, processing, marketing potential of aromatic, medicinal plants

ANINI, Oct 08: An awareness programme on the cultivation, processing, value addition and marketing of medicinal and aromatic plants was organised at the Krishi Vigyan Kendra (KVK), Dibang Valley, with technical support from the CSIR Central Institute of Medicinal and Aromatic Plants (CIMAP), Lucknow.

Around 50 farmers from the area participated in the programme, which aimed to create awareness about the potential of medicinal and aromatic plants as an alternative source of livelihood and income generation.

During the programme, experts from CSIR-CIMAP provided practical knowledge and hands-on demonstrations on the cultivation and processing of various medicinal and aromatic plants, including lemon grass, Java grass, citronella, khush (vetiver), tulsi, geranium, patchouli (Pogostemon cablin), mint, rosemary, chamomile and damask rose (Rosa damascena).

Planting materials of selected aromatic plants were also distributed among the participating farmers to encourage them to take up cultivation on their own farms.

Dr Manish Arya, Technical Officer, CSIR-CIMAP, Uttarakhand, highlighted the cultivation, processing and marketing potential of geranium and rosemary. He also demonstrated suitable processing practices and explained how farmers can improve the economic value of these crops through proper post-harvest management and marketing.

Manoj Yadav, Senior Technical Officer, CSIR-CIMAP, Lucknow, spoke extensively about rose, mint and other aromatic plants, explaining their medicinal uses, health benefits, cultivation practices and market opportunities. He encouraged farmers to explore commercial cultivation of aromatic plants considering their growing demand in the pharmaceutical, cosmetic, perfumery and wellness industries.

The programme provided farmers with practical exposure to modern cultivation and processing techniques while also creating awareness about the commercial potential of medicinal and aromatic plants. The distribution of planting materials is expected to help participants initiate cultivation and further promote aromatic plant-based livelihood activities in the Dibang Valley region. The programme concluded with an emphasis on strengthening technical support, processing facilities and market linkages for farmers interested in medicinal and aromatic plant cultivation.

Seva Sankalp Utsav – District-Level Traditional Sports Competition held at Daporijo

Stress on importance of preserving, promoting traditional games, indigenous sporting practices

DAPORIJO, Oct 08: The District-Level Traditional Sports Competition was held today at the Rijo Mini Outdoor Stadium, Daporijo, under the Seva Sankalp Utsav Programme, with the objective of promoting traditional sports, indigenous culture, youth participation and a spirit of healthy competition among the people of Upper Subansiri district.

The event was organised by the District Sports Office, ICR, Upper Subansiri, Daporijo, in collaboration with the District Administration, Upper Subansiri.

The programme was graced by Er. Taniya Soki, MLA, 24-Daporijo (S/T) Assembly as the chief guest, while Jyoti Jeram Sikom, Chairperson, Zila Parishad, Upper Subansiri, attended as the guest of honour.

The programme commenced with the gathering of participating teams, officials and the public, followed by the arrival of the chief guest and guest of honour. The ceremony included the playing of the National Song (Vande Mataram), presentation of the chief guest, welcome address, speeches by the dignitaries and the Nasha Mukti Yuva pledge.

A major highlight of the programme was the inauguration of the traditional sports competitions, showcasing the rich indigenous sporting heritage of Arunachal Pradesh. The competitions were conducted on a ZPM constituency-wise basis, with participants representing their respective constituencies.

The traditional sporting disciplines included Tug of War, Bamboo Archery, Guli Danda, Bamboo Climbing, Dali Haka Hinam and Bamboo Poles/Stick Running.

The event witnessed enthusiastic participation from youth and community members, providing a vibrant platform for showcasing strength, skill, agility, teamwork and traditional knowledge.

The Tug of War was organised as a team event, while the other disciplines were conducted as individual events. Winners at the district level will represent the district at the state-level competition, providing talented participants an opportunity to compete at the state level.

Speaking on the occasion, the dignitaries emphasised the importance of preserving and promoting traditional games and indigenous sporting practices, particularly among the younger generation. Such initiatives not only encourage physical fitness and sportsmanship but also help in keeping the rich cultural heritage of the state alive.

The programme also carried the important message of Nasha Mukti Yuva, encouraging young people to remain physically active, socially responsible and free from substance abuse.

The event concluded on a positive and energetic note, with the participation of athletes, officials, representatives of the ZPM constituencies and members of the public, reaffirming the commitment of the district administration towards youth empowerment, cultural preservation and promotion of sports at the grassroots level.

SPIC MACAY takes Indian classical heritage to schools of Leparada district

BASAR, Oct 08: The Society for the Promotion of Indian Classical Music and Culture Amongst the Youth (SPICMACAY) is taking Indian classical music and dance closer to students in remote, rural and border areas of Arunachal Pradesh as part of its Golden Jubilee celebrations.

As part of the outreach programme, Bharatanatyam artiste Sraddhasree Bramo conducted performances and interacted with students at schools in Basar, Tirbin and Dari under Leparada district from October 5 to 8. The programme in the district was organised by State Coordinator Chayanika Vashisht with the support of the district administration, Leparada District and the Department of School Education. The performances provided students an opportunity to witness Indian classical dance and gain an understanding of the country's rich and diverse cultural traditions. Through her Bharatanatyam presentations, Bramo introduced students to the artistic expressions, traditions and cultural significance associated with one of India's major classical dance forms. The programme also aimed to create greater awareness and appreciation of Indian heritage among the younger generation.

The district-level programme was coordinated by Doke Lombi, Block Education Officer (General), DDSE Office, Basar, under the supervision of Tomi Doke, Deputy Director of School Education, Basar, Leparada.

SPIC MACAY, a national organisation dedicated to promoting Indian classical music, dance and culture among the youth, will complete 50 years in 2027.

In Arunachal Pradesh, the outreach is being conducted in phases, with the first phase scheduled from October 5 to 9 and the second from October 27 to 31. The programme is covering schools across different districts, including those in remote and border areas, with around 10 schools being covered in each district.

The initiative is aimed at providing students direct exposure to India's rich intangible cultural heritage while encouraging cultural awareness and appreciation of traditional art forms.

The programme is part of the wider effort to connect the younger generation with India's classical traditions and promote cultural learning beyond the classroom.

Tirap's traditional games take centre stage at Seva Sankalp Utsav

KHONSA, Oct 08: The vibrant sporting traditions of Tirap came alive at Nehru Stadium, Khonsa, on Thursday as the Seva Sankalp Utsav – Traditional Sports Competition brought together participants, community members and sports enthusiasts in a lively celebration of the district's indigenous games and sporting heritage.

Organised by the Department of Youth Affairs & Sports, Tirap District, the event was more than a sporting competition. It was a celebration of the games that have been part of community life for generations—games rooted in strength, agility, coordination, courage and, above all, the spirit of togetherness.

The stadium echoed with cheers as participants competed in Dali Haka Hinam, Guli Danda, Bamboo Archery, Bamboo Running, Tug of War, and Bamboo Climbing, showcasing traditional skills with remarkable energy and enthusiasm. Each event brought its own excitement, with participants drawing encouragement from the spectators and fellow competitors.

The programme was attended by Tirap Deputy Commissioner Badonlum Tawsik, (AG); ZPC Adv. John KK Matey; EE, Urban Affairs, Er Lienwang Hosai; ZPMs and PRI leaders from across the district. Representatives of the BJP Tirap unit, including Jiten Wangchha, vice president; Wangto Hakhun, general secretary; Muahang Tesia, vice president; Wihang Boi, district president, Mahila Morcha; Bamin Chimyang, District president, Mahila Morcha; Convenor, BJYM, and other public leaders were also present.

Noah Mongku, District Sports Officer, Tirap, coordinated the sporting activities and proceedings of the competition.

The competitions saw enthusiastic participation from different parts of Tirap, with participants putting their traditional skills to the test.
