Bangladesh have been named as their replacement for the six-team tournament. The Asian Hockey Federation (AHF) announced the full schedule on Friday, confirming an India-Bangladesh clash on the opening day. Pakistan's participation remained uncertain as the Pakistan Hockey Federation (PHF) awaited its govt's clearance for the India tour. The PHF had requested a neutral venue from tournament organisers, but Hockey India (HI) rejected the proposal.

THE NEERAJ HAND IN ROHIT'S JAVELIN BRONZE

Having Lost His Sporting Equipment In Transit, Yadav Got One Delivered From Chopra Instead

Sabi.Hussain@timesofindia.com

New Delhi: When Rohit Yadav stepped onto the field in Aichi-Nagoya, Japan, for the Asian Games javelin final, he carried more than a piece of sporting equipment. In his hand was a signed javelin belonging to Olympic and world champion Neeraj Chopra — a quiet gesture of support that would accompany him to an international podium.

The story began in June, when Yadav struck gold at the National Inter State Senior Athletics Championships in Bhubaneswar with a personal best of 87.05m. Upon returning to his training base in NIS Patiala, he discovered that his preferred javelin had bent, apparently during air transit in its protective PVC tube in the aircraft's cargo hold.

Yadav subsequently competed at the Commonwealth Games in Glasgow with a borrowed implement, finishing seventh with 81.56m in cold, windy conditions. With the Asian Games approaching, he faced the prospect of competing without his trusted javelin.

“For the Asian Games, I didn’t have my own javelin. My preferred one was damaged and had bent. While coming to Delhi from Patiala for the Indian Athletics Final Series on Sept 10, I spoke to Neeraj bhai,” Yadav told TOI.

“We have been in regular touch. I knew he had returned to India for rehabilitation. I told him I didn’t have a javelin of my own for the Asian Games. He immediately came to my rescue and sent me one of his signed javelins through a private taxi service to the Jawaharlal Nehru (JLN) stadium,” he added.

Chopra had withdrawn from the remainder of the season, including the Asian Games, to recover from an ankle ligament injury. His absence left India without its two-time defending champion, but his gesture ensured that a fellow Indian thrower had the equipment he needed. There was, however, a catch.

Yadav could not use the javelin in Delhi because it had not been registered with the Technical Information Centre (TIC) for inspection. He borrowed another registered implement for the event, then carefully packed Chopra's gift for Japan. “At the Asian Games, I registered two javelins with the TIC. But I used the one Neeraj bhai gave me. I had a good grip and hold over it, and with that javelin I made the winning throw to secure bronze with 84.35m,” he said.

“I will remain thankful to Neeraj bhai. I have kept that javelin with me and will use it in future competitions as well.”

After his competition, Rohit listened to Chopra's congratulatory voice message. “He told me to enjoy the win and savour my first big international medal. He said that when he returns fully fit, we will compete together, and that I have a long way to go.”

Back home in Uttar Pradesh's Jaunpur, Yadav is taking the off-season to spend time with family until Diwali. “I want to earn a Diamond League entry, compete internationally and qualify for the World Championships next year. The ultimate target remains the Los Angeles Olympics,” he added.

Kumkum sets sights on LA

Sabi.Hussain@timesofindia.com

New Delhi: For years, South Korea's dominance in recurve archery was taken for granted. Kumkum Mohod had heard enough. At 17, the teenager from Maharashtra's Amravati did not want to be intimidated by reputation; she rewrote the record books by winning an individual gold at the Asian Games in Aichi-Nagoya instead, finishing with two gold and one silver medal.

“Everyone keeps talking about Korea. But they also have to shoot a 10, and I have to shoot a 10. So why think about who is standing opposite me? I just have to focus on my shot and give my best,” Kumkum said on Friday.

Her defiance translated into history in Japan. She became the first Indian woman to win individual recurve gold at the Asian Games, overcoming South Korea's Oh Yejin in a nerve-racking final that went into a shoot-off at 5-5.

When it mattered most, the Indian teenager struck a perfect 10. Her opponent managed an eight. The individual triumph followed gold in the women's team event, alongside Ankita Bhakat and Kirti, ending South Korea's remarkable run of seven consecutive Asian Games titles. Kumkum also claimed mixed team silver with Dhiraj Bommadevara, completing a three-medal debut that announced her arrival on the continental stage.

“Everyone thought Koreans were unbeatable, which is why this gold is so important,” she said during an interaction facilitated by Sports Authority of India (SAI). Yet, for all the composure she displayed under pressure, Kumkum knows her craft remains a work in progress. Even after the biggest victory of her young career, her hand can still tremble while releasing the arrow. Technical refinement, physical strength and mental conditioning remain priorities.

“I need to improve on technical aspects and work on my strength. I also want to become mentally stronger,” she said. That composure was tested in the shoot-off, when her heartbeat raced. Breathing exercises, self-motivation and visualising the perfect shot, however, helped her settle the nerves.

Important to make fixtures known earlier, says Marquez

Rohan.Alvares@timesofindia.com

Mumbai: Manolo Marquez has spent enough time in Indian football to know that ideal preparation conditions ahead of a new domestic season simply don't exist. Having recently taken over the reins at Mumbai City from Petr Kratky, the Spanish coach has had to manage a large chunk of pre-season preparations without the luxury of a full squad at his disposal. The long FIFA international break didn't help.

As he addressed reporters on Friday ahead of City's Indian Super League opener away to Churchill Brothers, Marquez did point out the challenge was not his alone.

But as the ISL enters a new club-led era, the former FC Goa and Indian national team boss said, in a firm message to the authorities, that there was a way to help coaches better prepare their teams: Finalise the fixtures earlier.

“Most teams are in the same situation except some who played the Durand Cup very early. Then East Bengal is playing the Asian competition,” Marquez said. “But most of the teams, like

SC Delhi, Bengaluru too, are doing a very long pre-season, so half of the teams are in a similar situation.

“This is not a excuse but there is one thing that you say that is very, very important and maybe Indian football should start doing this, is to make the fixture earlier,” he added. “Maybe it would be good if we know already everything about the 2026-27 season. Even when we will start, I don't know if it will be the Super Cup, or Federation Cup, I don't know the name, but if you know everything, you can prepare everything.”

Don't try telling the tactician from Barcelona, who led Hyderabad FC to the ISL title in the 2021-22 season, that some things just can't be done in India. Marquez isn't buying it. “The excuse that, ‘No, India is like this, this is the country, we cannot organize nothing’. For me, this is not true. You can organize if you know the exact days when you will start one competition,” Marquez said, as he recalled how I-League (now Indian Football League) teams were fed different starting dates for the competition a couple of seasons ago.
