

HC seeks state's response on sanitation workers' strike in Bazpur

Dehradun: Uttarakhand HC on Friday directed US Nagar district magistrate, Bazpur municipal council and state govt to apprise it by Monday of the situation arising from the accumulation of garbage in several wards following a 14-day strike by sanitation workers demanding regularisation of their services and other benefits. A division bench of acting Chief Justice Manoj Kumar Tiwari and Justice Pankaj Purohit was hearing a petition filed by a resident, seeking directions to the municipal council to ensure daily sanitation and address the workers' demands within a reasonable time to prevent public inconvenience. Petitioners said that the accumulation of garbage has caused inconvenience to residents and triggered respiratory problems in some areas.

The municipal council told the court that it had repeatedly asked the workers to release vehicles so that cleaning operations could resume. However, it lacked the authority to fulfil their demands, which could only be addressed by state govt, and that it had advised workers to submit a representation to state govt, the council said. Pankul Sharma

HC: Accessible records integral to fair trial

Dehradun: Setting aside a special court (Pocso) order which had shut the opportunity of a blind accused to cross-examine a prosecution witness, Uttarakhand HC held that "access to evidence in an accessible format is directly linked to the right to a fair trial".

Justice Alok Mahra, while allowing the criminal revision filed by the accused against the state, observed the trial court ought to have ensured compliance with HC's earlier directions before closing the accused's right to cross-examine. The court said that furnishing materials in an accessible form is "not a mere procedural formality", but connected with the accused's right to understand the evidence against him and participate in his defence.

The revision arose from a Sept 9 order, passed by the special (Pocso) court, Dehradun. By that order, the lower court had closed the accused's opportunity to cross-examine PW-1 (witness).

Accused's counsel submitted that the matter had earlier reached a division bench in a criminal appeal against his conviction. HC on June 18, 2025, had allowed the appeal, set aside the conviction and directed a re-trial. While doing so, it had taken note that the accused is "completely blind" and held that the mandate of section 12 (4) (a), (b) and (c) of Rights of Persons with Disabilities Act, 2016 had to be complied with.

According to the revisionist, after remand, PW-1's examination-in-chief was recorded. Accused then sought a copy of that testimony in Braille so that he could understand it and instruct his counsel for cross-examination. Trial court declined that request. It noted that the statement of PW-1 recorded under CrPC 161 had already been supplied in Braille and then closed the cross-examination opportunity.

State opposed the revision, submitting that the trial court had proceeded in accordance with law. However, HC held the controversy had to be examined in light of the division bench's earlier judgment.

HC while setting aside the Sept 9 order, directed the trial court on Tuesday to provide the accused a Braille copy of PW-1's examination-in-chief. It directed that statements and evidence of other prosecution witnesses recorded during re-trial must also be made available in an accessible form. The court clarified it had expressed no opinion on the merits of the prosecution case.

‘Duty shield applies to encroachment removal ordered by court’

Dehradun: Uttarakhand HC has refused to interfere with a revisional court order that set aside the summoning of two public servants accused in a complaint arising from an anti-encroachment operation at Haldwani, Nainital. Holding that the alleged case occurred while the officials were acting in pursuance of HC directions in a PIL, the court dismissed the application filed by Arshad Ayyub.

Justice Siddhartha Sah on Thursday held the sessions judge had passed a "well-considered, detailed and proper order" and that no interference was required. The court observed that the alleged act of SSP and DFO had occurred in the exercise of duties entrusted to them, attracting the protection available to public servants under CrPC 197.

The applicant had challenged the order of Nov 24, 2017, passed by district and sessions judge, Nainital. That order had allowed the revision filed by IFS Nitish Mani Tripathi and others and set aside the judicial magistrate's order dated Aug 10, 2017.

The applicant alleged that on Jan 16, 2017, he was beaten and attacked with a lathi by govt servants, causing serious injuries and a fractured leg. He claimed that despite informing cops and later the SSP, no action was taken. HC noted that the respondents had been deployed, along with 245 officers and employees, during proceedings for removal of illegal encroachments pursuant to earlier HC orders in WPIL of 2013. Pankul Sharma

Panel orders refund after iPhone bursts

Agra: Aligarh district consumer disputes redressal commission has found an iPhone defective after it burst inside its owner's pocket and injured his thumb, and directed the opposite parties to either replace the handset or refund the purchase price of Rs 29,500 with 10% annual interest.

The commission also ordered payment of Rs 36,139 towards medical expenses and Rs 5,000 as litigation costs. It held that the handset was defective and directed that relief be provided within 45 days. Non-compliance could lead to action under Section 72 of Consumer Protection Act, 2019. Mohd Dilshad
