A game of hide-and-seek

Protesters hide amid Delhi clampdown

Protesters hide in washrooms, gurdwara amid police crackdown.

Press Trust Of India

NEW DELHI: They hid in public washrooms, took shelter overnight in a gurdwara and slipped in and out of its gates as police closed in, turning the crackdown during the CJP protest in Delhi into a elaborate game of hide-and-seek. As thousands of police and paramilitary personnel fanned out across the capital on Saturday, protesters demanding the resignation of Chief Election Commissioner Gyanesh Kumar and the rollback of Special Intensive Revision (SIR) scrambled to evade detention, using public spaces and places of worship to lie low.

One of the most unusual scenes unfolded at an NDMC washroom in Connaught Place, where more than 20 young protesters had hidden overnight, hoping to sneak through the extensive security arrangements ahead of the march to Jantar Mantar. The group had gradually gathered through the night after restrictions were announced across the city on Friday.

Demonstrators during a protest organised by the CJP.

The washrooms, which are locked at 10 pm and reopened at 6 am, offered a temporary hiding place until the morning police checks thwarted their plan. During an inspection, police found the protesters inside the washroom. Some had allegedly forced open the door to get in. The protesters were rounded up and bundled into detention vehicles. Most had their faces covered. Even after being detained, they continued raising slogans and banging against interiors of the police vehicles, their voices carrying through the netted windows inside from public view.

CPI(M) leaders detained while joining protest

At Kerala House, several CPI(M) leaders, including former chief ministers of different states, had been staying since Friday night. They were detained on Saturday when they stepped out to join the protest. The scenes played out against an unprecedented security deployment around the planned demonstration, called by the CJP and other Left organisations to demand Kumar's resignation over alleged irregularities in the SIR exercise. More than 30,000 police and paramilitary personnel were deployed across the capital, while 45 metro stations were closed and traffic restrictions imposed on 30 road stretches around Jantar Mantar.

HIGHLIGHT

- Over 30,000 security personnel deployed across capital.
- Metro stations shut, traffic restrictions imposed.

'Join battle against drug menace'

Press Trust Of India

Mann urges youth to reject drugs.

MOHALI: Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann on Saturday called upon people to join the battle to eradicate the drug menace in the state, protect the future of its youth and restore the state's lost glory. Mann urged young people to shun drugs permanently and embrace education and sports, while holding previous BJP, Akali and Congress governments responsible for "spreading drugs." He was addressing after flagging off a bikers' rally across all 23 districts to turn the fight against drugs into a people's movement. The launch of the final phase of the anti-drug drive, 'Yudh Nashian Virudh', from the historic land of Chapparchiri carries immense significance, as it is associated with Baba Banda Singh Bahadur's historic struggle against injustice and tyranny, he said. The same spirit of courage, sacrifice and determination will guide Punjab in its battle against drugs, he said. Urging people to join the campaign against drugs, Mann said, the fight cannot be won by the government alone and requires the united strength of every Punjabi. Making the anti-drug campaign a collective movement, the bikers' rally will travel across all 23 districts of Punjab, taking the message against drugs to villages, towns and communities, he said.

Devotees offer 'tarpan' to ancestors on Mahalaya

Press Trust Of India

Occasion marked beginning of count-down to state's biggest festival, Durga Puja.

KOLKATA: Thousands of people thronged the banks of the Hooghly River and other water bodies in West Bengal to offer prayers to their ancestors on Mahalaya on Saturday, as the occasion marked the beginning of the count-down to the state's biggest festival, Durga Puja.

With Mahalaya marking the end of 'Pitru Paksha' and the beginning of 'Devi Paksha', devotees began arriving at river ghats in Kolkata early in the morning to perform 'tarpan', a ritual involving the offering of water and prayers in memory of departed ancestors.

The city woke up to the traditional broadcast of 'Mahishasura Mardini', featuring the iconic voice of Birendra Krishna Bhadra, a ritual that has remained an integral part of Mahalaya celebrations in West Bengal for generations. Union Home Minister Amit Shah, West Bengal Governor R N Ravi and Chief Minister Suvendu Adhikari greeted people on the occasion, invoking the blessings of Goddess Durga and wishing happiness, peace and prosperity for all.In his message, Shah extended warm greetings on the occasion, describing Goddess Durga as the embodiment of Adi Shakti and a symbol of the triumph of righteousness over evil. "Shubho Mahalaya! Warm greetings to all on the sacred occasion of Mahalaya. May the blessings of Maa Durga fill every life with boundless joy, well-being and prosperity," Shah said in a social media post.

People perform the 'Tarpan' ritual to pay obeisance to their departed ancestors on the occasion of 'Mahalaya'.
