84 BSF personnel hospitalised in Manipur over suspected food poisoning

IMPHAL : At least 84 Border Security Force (BSF) personnel deployed in Manipur were hospitalised on Thursday following suspected food poisoning after eating breakfast, officials said.

The personnel, who arrived in Manipur from outside the state on Wednesday, were staying at a construction site in Lamshang in Imphal West district.

They reportedly fell ill after consuming puri and aloo sabzi for breakfast around 8.30 a.m., and were subsequently taken to the government Regional Institute of Medical Sciences (RIMS) for treatment, a hospital official said.

The official said the personnel received immediate medical treatment in the emergency department and their condition was stable.

A senior doctor of the RIMS told the media that there were no signs of deterioration in their health and that tests were being conducted to determine the cause of the suspected food poisoning.

Manipur Chief Minister Yumnam Khemchand Singh and Home Minister Konthoujam Govindas Singh expressed concern over the incident.

In a social media post, the Chief Minister said the well-being of security personnel remained a priority and wished the affected jawans a speedy and complete recovery. He also urged the authorities concerned to ensure that they received the best possible medical care.

"The well-being of our security personnel remains a priority. I wish all the affected jawans a speedy and complete recovery. The concerned authorities are urged to ensure that they receive the best possible medical care. My thoughts and prayers are with them during this time," Khemchand Singh said.

Manipur Home Minister, after visiting the RIMS, said on social media that the BSF personnel had arrived from Chhattisgarh on Wednesday and were staying at a camp at Taothong Lamkhai in Imphal West.

"Wishing every affected jawan a speedy and complete recovery," the Minister said in his post. BSF personnel, along with those of various other Central Armed Police Forces (CAPF) and the Army, have been deployed across Manipur to assist in maintaining law and order in the state, which has been affected by ethnic violence since May 2023.

India handles dissent within constitutional framework characterised by functioning democratic institutions

NEW DELHI : Left-affiliated students' union leader Neha Bora's recent reference to the 2024 youth protest in Bangladesh in context of the ongoing agitation in India is nothing beyond a sweeping statement born out of political compulsion and a communication to seek emotive responses. Treating the two separate incidents as equivalent oversimplifies important political, institutional, and legal differences where the nature of the protests and the authorities' responses differ significantly.

One of the most important distinctions lies in the scale and political consequences of the protests. The 2024 protests in Bangladesh began as a student movement against the quota system in government jobs but rapidly evolved into a broader anti-government uprising.

Though the aim may be similar for certain political activists, authorities have acted with restraint in case of peaceful rallies, as was evident when tens of thousands on Monday came on Delhi streets with Opposition leaders on their way to the Supreme Court to initiate a judicial process.

In India, the right to peaceful assembly is constitutionally protected, although it is subject to reasonable restrictions related to public order.

The action of security forces has largely been prohibitory and precautionary against possible escalation.

In Bangladesh, the 2024 widespread protests were marked with violence, arson, loot and was met with strong retaliatory exercise where domestic monitoring reported 819 deaths, while a later United Nations assessment estimated the number at 1,400. There also were reports of communal frenzy and religious persecution resulting in several horrific deaths. In India, recent movements such as protests after the Citizenship Amendment Act (CAA) was enacted by the Centre in December 2019, the 2020-2021 farmers' movement against proposed agriculture laws, among others, or various state-level protests have placed pressure on Union, state, or Union Territory governments, but they have not resulted in the collapse of the system.

Institutional channels such as Legislatures, Judiciary, and independent commissions continue to function alongside public dissent. The Judiciary has been hearing cases involving rights of protesters, police actions, and restrictions imposed by authorities; while public debates about conduct and retaliatory exercises take place, apart from courts, in Legislatures, and other platforms like the media.

Such processes are happening now as well.

A third distinction lies in the intensity of the force used by state authorities against demonstrators.

Building collapses in Varanasi due to firecracker explosion, two rescued

VARANASI : A massive explosion triggered the collapse of a two-storey building in Uttar Pradesh's Varanasi on Thursday, leaving two people injured and a woman trapped under the debris, officials said. The incident took place in the Paigambarpur area under the Sarnath police station area of Varanasi. According to preliminary information, an illegal firecracker manufacturing unit was operating inside the house. The explosion is suspected to have occurred due to highly inflammable materials on the premises. Two people were injured in the incident and have been taken to hospital for treatment, while efforts are underway to rescue a woman trapped under the rubble. Speaking to IANS, DCP Rajesh Pandey said: "Information was received at 5 p.m. that a two-storey building had collapsed. Upon reaching the spot, we found firecrackers scattered around the place, so it is being considered that the incident took place due to the explosion of firecrackers." He said that according to locals, a woman is trapped under the debris and a rescue operation is currently underway to pull her out. Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath has directed officials to reach the site immediately and expedite relief operations, NDTV reported. Further, CM Adityanath has instructed officials to ensure proper medical treatment for those injured. The officials have also been directed to contact the families of the injured and provide them with all possible assistance.

PIYUSH GOYAL LAUNCHES NATIONAL STRATEGIC TRADE COMMAND CENTRE TO BOOST DATA-DRIVEN MONITORING

NEW DELHI : Commerce and Industry Minister Piyush Goyal on Thursday launched the National Strategic Trade Command Centre (NSTCC) at Vanijya Bhawan here, aimed at strengthening the monitoring, analysis and governance of India's international trade ecosystem through integrated data analytics and evidence-based decision-making.

The Command Centre has been conceptualised to provide senior policymakers and government officials with a consolidated view of India's trade performance, export promotion schemes, regulatory approvals, application processing, and operational indicators.

By bringing together information from multiple trade-related systems, the NSTCC seeks to facilitate timely identification of emerging trends, operational bottlenecks and areas requiring policy or administrative intervention, according to an official statement.

In his remarks on the occasion, Goyal lauded the NSTCC for enabling data-driven, evidence-based trade decisions. While reviewing the SCOMET (Special Chemicals, Organisms, Materials, Equipment and Technologies) dashboard, in particular, he called for regular meetings of the Inter-Ministerial Committee, weekly if required, to clear the backlog of pending applications and ensure that all applications are cleared expeditiously.

At the core of the NSTCC is an integrated analytics and visualisation platform developed to transform trade-related data into actionable insights. The NSTCC provides interactive dashboards covering key trade indicators, scheme performance, application pendency, processing timelines, regional trends and compliance-related parameters. The platform enables users to analyse information across multiple levels, including national trade performance, regional authorities, schemes, products, destination markets and individual applications, subject to role-based access permissions.

In its initial phase, the Command Centre brings together dashboards covering key DGFT functions and trade-related domains, including importer-exporter code (IEC), advance authorisation, export promotion capital goods (EPCG).
