IPS officer, mother booked in dowry harassment case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Puducherry

THE All Women Police Station in Puducherry registered a dowry harassment case on Tuesday against an IPS officer and his mother following a complaint by his wife, who alleged that the duo demanded a house worth ₹50 lakh as dowry and subjected her to harassment.

Subash (39), a native of Keezharunai, in Tiruvannamalai district, was promoted to Indian Police Service (IPS-AGMUT) a few months ago and is currently posted in Delhi.

He married Arunya (36), a postgraduate in Computer Technology from Nerinjipettai, in 2024, when he was serving as a Deputy Commandant in the Indian Reserve Battalion (IRBN) of the Puducherry Police.

In her complaint dated July 11, 2026, Arunya alleged that her family had promised to give 15 sovereigns of gold jewellery at the time of marriage but could provide only six sovereigns, assuring that the remaining jewellery would be given later.

Arunya further alleged that Subash and his mother, Sulochana, subsequently demanded a house worth ₹50 lakh as dowry, harassed her and sent her back to her parent's home.

Following an inquiry, the complaint was referred to the Dowry Prohibition Officer for further investigation.

After receiving the officer's inquiry report and obtaining authorisation from senior officers, the case was registered under Section 85 and Section 3(5) of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (BNS) and Section 4 of the Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961 on October 13.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Kallakurichi

A 26-year-old man from Cuddalore was arrested for allegedly abducting a three-year-old boy near Chinnasalem in Kallakurichi district. The Keezhkuppam police rescued the child in Salem within hours of the incident and remanded the suspect in judicial custody on Wednesday.

According to the police, K Jayaprakash (36), a native of Chinnasalem, runs a chicken shop at Kalasamuthiram-Kural Junction. On Tuesday evening, his younger son, Rethushan (3), accompanied him to the shop. Around 6.30 pm, the boy went missing while playing near the shop.

Rethushan (3)

While making inquiries about in the neighbourhood, Jayaprakesh learnt that a man identified as P Manikandan (26), a resident of Virudhachalam, had allegedly abducted the child. Manikandan had had tea at a nearby shop. On being alerted, police visited the spot and examined CCTV footage from the area, which showed Manikandan leaving with the child on a motorcycle driven by another person. According to police, the ride was unaware of alleged abduction and had given Manikandan a lift. Further, Manikandan had also borrowed his mobile phone to make a call before leaving with the child, police said.

By tracing the mobile number, police located the suspect in Salem. A police team from Keezhkuppam reached Salem, intercepted the suspect and rescued the boy. The accused and the child were brought to Keezhkuppam on Wednesday morning, and the boy was handed over to his parents.

TN bus crew face action over messages on display board

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Villupuram

DISCIPLINARY action has been initiated against drivers and conductors of a state-owned bus after political messages appeared on its rear digital route display board, said S Sridharan, Managing Director of the Tamil Nadu State Transport Corporation in Villupuram zone. The incident came to light following a complaint on Monday.

Acting on the complaint, officials inspected the bus (TN32N5013), operating on Tiruchy-Neyveli route, along with an electrical staff member. However, no unauthorised messages were on display during the inspection. Officials also confirmed that the Wi-Fi on the bus was deactivated.

A technical inspection by LED Geo, the display-board manufacturer, found that the motherboard inside the display board unit had not been properly secured. Officials said the messages could be uploaded only through software or a USB drive.

During the inquiry, the drivers and conductors denied uploading the messages. While officials said a passenger could have uploaded them, they did not rule out negligence on the part of the bus crew.

Following the inquiry, disciplinary action was initiated against drivers A P Chithirai Selvan and P Parandhaman, and conductors Senthamarai Kannan, R Venkatesan and E Manikandan, who were on duty between October 9 and 13, officials said.

Sridharan said a warning circular had been issued across the Villupuram division and strict monitoring was under way to prevent similar incidents.
