

HC: Parents can't force adult daughter to live with them

'Habeas Corpus Cannot Be Used To Override Adult's Choice'

Rajesh Kumar Pandey | TNN

25yo woman told court she was living independently in Delhi

Prayagraj: Allahabad high court has made it clear that parents cannot invoke a writ of habeas corpus to compel an adult daughter to live with them against her wish.

Justice Sandeep Jain dismissed Mauresident Kalawati Devi's petition seeking the production of her 25-year-old daughter before the court. The court directed that the woman, being a major and competent person, shall remain at liberty to reside at a place and with a person of her choice.

Kalawati had filed a habeas corpus writ petition seeking directions for the production of her daughter before the HC. On Aug 17, 2026, the high court directed the state to produce her. Thereafter, police officials from Ghosi police station in Mau district produced her before the high court.

During her interaction with the court, she stated that she was residing independently in Delhi of her own volition and was not under any illegal or unlawful detention.

She further stated before the court that she did not wish to reside with her mother. She alleged that her mother's conduct and behaviour towards her had not been cordial and that she had frequently been subjected to assault and abuse at her parental home.

On the other hand, the mother denied these allegations and expressed her desire that her daughter should reside with her at the parental home. After interacting with the daughter and considering her statement in its entirety, the court found that she was a major and had consciously and voluntarily expressed her unwillingness to reside with her mother.

The court observed: "A major person cannot be compelled, against her expressed will, to reside with a particular person merely because such person happens to be her parent."

The high court said that once the corpus has attained majority and made a "clear, voluntary and unequivocal choice" regarding her place of residence, her autonomy and decisional freedom are entitled to due recognition.

The high court explained that jurisdiction in a habeas corpus proceeding is directed towards securing release from illegal or unlawful detention and cannot ordinarily be invoked to compel an adult corpus to reside with a person against her will when no illegal detention is established.

In its Sept 28 judgment dismissing the petition, the high court observed: "In view of the aforesaid facts and circumstances, the essential foundation for maintaining the present habeas corpus petition is conspicuously absent. No case of illegal or unlawful detention is made out against any person and no further relief can be granted in exercise of the extraordinary writ jurisdiction of this court."

14yo leaves home for 'PUBG' task, found asleep on bus 3 days later

Class 8 Student From Firozabad Was Heading To Gwalior

IN A NUTSHELL

- ▶ Boy left home on Oct 2 carrying his school bag Gwalior for the purported gaming task believing he could earn Rs 1 lakh
- ▶ He later travelled towards Mathura and was found in a roadways bus on Mathura-Firozabad road in Mathura district
- ▶ Police teams examined CCTV footage and tracked his mobile phone location. Officers coordinated with Indore police there and continued monitoring his movements
- ▶ Police said boy had become increasingly dependent on mobile gaming after his father's death and was spending considerable time playing online games

Agra: A 14-year-old Class 8 student who left his Firozabad home allegedly to complete a PUBG gaming task that he believed could earn him Rs 1 lakh was found asleep on a roadways bus in Mathura district three days later, police said. His disappearance had left his family fearing that he had been kidnapped before police traced him using CCTV footage and mobile surveillance.

The boy left home on Oct 2 carrying his school bag and intended to travel to Gwalior for the purported gaming task, but lost his way and reached Indore, hundreds of kilometres from home.

He later travelled towards Mathura and was eventually found asleep in a roadways bus on the Mathura-Firozabad road in Mathura district, police said.

After the boy failed to return home, his family approached South police station and reported him missing. Police teams examined CCTV footage and tracked his mobile phone location, which led them to Indore.

Officers coordinated with local police there and continued monitoring his movements until he was traced to the bus.

South police station SHO Yogendra Pal Singh said police recovered the boy safely and reunited him with his family. SP City Ravishankar Prasad said, "The missing student was traced with the help of surveillance and CCTV footage."

Police said the boy had become increasingly dependent on mobile gaming after his father's death and was spending considerable time playing online games his father's death and was spending considerable time playing online games.

After his recovery, local residents felicitated the police team, while officers urged parents to monitor children's mobile-phone use and online activity.

Similar incidents involving children attempting to recreate online games or challenges have been reported earlier. In Meerut in Aug 2026, two children, aged 11 and 7, left home after watching a YouTube "24-hour challenge" and hid near a farmhouse before police found them safely. The incident was not linked to PUBG.

In 2020, a 17-year-old Class 11 student reportedly left his Solan home to complete a PUBG task and travelled to Aurangabad in Maharashtra. Police traced him through mobile-location information and with the help of another PUBG player before he was brought home.

Apex court asks Allahabad HC chief justice to take decision on trial judge

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

New Delhi: Uttar Pradesh govt informed Supreme Court on Monday that it has decided to replace the public prosecutor in the Lakhimpur Kheri farmers' moving down case in which Ashish Mishra, son of ex-minister Ajay Mishra, is an accused but defended the earlier PP saying the allegations against him by the witness were unfounded.

A bench of Chief Justice Surya Kant and Justices Joydipal Bagchi and V Mohana also forwarded the vigilance report, which was placed before it in a sealed cover, on the trial judge, whom the witness had accused of improperly withdrawing to himself cases under NDPS Act and SC/ST Act and acquitting the accused, to the Allahabad HC chief justice for appropriate decision.

Uttar Pradesh standing counsel Ruchira Goel said the earlier PP was a seasoned prosecutor with 16 years of experience and had not given up key witnesses as alleged by the witness. She said there were

Case relates to Oct 2021 incident in which Ashish Mishra had allegedly run over protesting farmers with his SUV, resulting in the death of four of them. An angry mob of farmers then lynched the driver of the vehicle and two BJP workers. A journalist was also killed in the violence certain witnesses who had died and others had turned hostile, which he had given up.

The bench said it understood the predicament but said whenever doubts were cast on the PP which would affect a free and fair trial, it was better to replace him. "We are not casting any aspersion on the professional ability of the earlier PP," the bench said.

Appearing for Mishra, senior advocate Siddharth Dave accused the witness of attempting to prejudice the trial, the PP and the trial judge by making wild allegations and trying to coerce them to record a conviction. "Every now and then, the witness threatens the trial judge and the PP by stating that he will complain to the SC," he said.

The bench said the state had done a commendable job by replacing the PP but clarified, "We are not saying anything against anyone. Our only concern is that the trial should proceed smoothly in a free and fair manner." The bench, which is monitoring progress of the trial, was informed that 86 of the 131 witnesses in the 2021 case had been examined. The SC posted further hearing after two weeks.

The case relates to the Oct 2021 incident in which Mishra had allegedly run over protesting farmers with his SUV, resulting in the death of four of them. An angry mob of farmers then lynched the driver of the vehicle and two BJP workers. A journalist was also killed in the violence. Mishra is on bail but has been barred from residing in his hometown Lakhimpur Kheri.
