Ladakh integral part of India: Delhi rejects China objection

Shubhajit Roy
New Delhi, October 13

No amount of denial by China can change this fact, says Ministry of External Affairs spokesperson Randhir Jaiswal

INDIA ON Tuesday rejected China's objection to the government announcing standard names of 28 places and features in Ladakh, asserting that the Union Territory of Ladakh is an integral part of India.

The reaction came hours after China opposed the Indian Government's announcement, saying it has never recognised the Union Territory of Ladakh. New Delhi said identifying the 28 places on the Indian map is aimed at accurate recognition.

China raised the objections over a week after the Union Home Ministry announced on October 2 that "the government, in consultation with the Union Territory of Ladakh, has identified a total of twenty-eight (28) places/features, located in the UT of Ladakh, by standard place and feature names on the official map of Survey of India (Sol)".

It said that “identifying them formally on the Survey of India map of UT of Ladakh is aimed at facilitating their accurate recognition and better awareness among the public at large”.

Shivakumar vows accountability after anti-EC protesters detained

AMID THE Congress's vocal opposition to the large-scale detention of protesters in Delhi and mounting criticism over the detention of more than 200 anti-SIR demonstrators in Bengaluru, Karnataka Chief Minister D K Shivakumar on Tuesday reiterated his government's commitment to the right to peaceful protest, saying there would be "no double standards".

“The right to peaceful protest is fundamental to our democracy. We cannot demand that right for ourselves in Delhi and deny it to others in Bengaluru,” Shivakumar said in a statement on Tuesday.

He said he had sought a report on the police action. “If there has been any unnecessary use of force or excess, accountability will follow. Disagreement with the Election Commission (EC), disagreement with my government, or disagreement with me personally does not diminish anyone’s right to peacefully express it,” the statement read.

Earlier in the day, state Home Minister Priyank Kharge said the handling of Monday’s protests would be reviewed. In post on X, Kharge said, "The right to peaceful protest is fundamental to our democracy. It must be respected, protected and never suppressed. I have issued instructions to the police to ensure that no peaceful demonstration is disrupted..."

"The police are here to protect your rights, not to stand in the way of your voice. Our responsibility is not merely to maintain law and order, but to create an environment where every citizen can express dissent freely, peacefully and without fear. In a democracy, peaceful dissent is not a threat to law and order. It is a right that law and order must protect," he added.
