Govt doctors in Tiruchy demand more medical staff, oppose reduction in posts

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Tiruchy

GOVERNMENT doctors attached to Tamil Nadu Government Doctors Association (TNGDA) in Tiruchy district on Thursday urged the state government to increase medical staff strength in government hospitals and oppose reduction of existing posts, stating that staff shortages could increase workload and affect patient care.

The protest, organised by the TNGDA, was held at the Office of the Joint Director of Health Services in Tiruchy against the implementation of government order 113, which provides for redeployment of medical officer posts across district headquarters, taluk and non-taluk hospitals under the Directorate of Medical and Rural Health Services. The association sought a review of the order, stating that doctor strength should be determined based on patient footfall, workload and services offered by individual hospitals.

"Patient load and services differ from one hospital to another. Reducing posts without assessing the actual requirement will increase the workload of existing doctors and could affect timely treatment," said TNGDA district secretary A Malathi Sriram. The doctors also sought stronger specialist teams at hospitals providing Comprehensive Emergency Obstetric and Newborn Care (CEmONC).

"CEmONC hospitals handle critical maternal and newborn cases and require specialists round the clock. We have sought at least five obstetricians, four anaesthesiologists and four paediatricians in each such hospital," said association treasurer A Rajendiran.

As part of the protest, doctors wore badges displaying their demands while continuing to attend to patients. The association urged the government to reconsider GO 113 and increase manpower wherever required to ensure uninterrupted healthcare services.

CWMA directs Karnataka to release 3,000 cusecs daily to TN for 15 days

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

THE Cauvery Water Management Authority (CWMA) on Thursday directed Karnataka to release 3,000 cusecs of Cauvery water daily at Biligundulu for 15 days from Friday (October 9), upholding the recommendation of the Cauvery Water Regulation Committee (CWRC).

The decision was taken at the 59th CWMA meeting in New Delhi. Tamil Nadu was represented by Water Resources Department Secretary Prashant M Vadnere and Cauvery Technical Cell chairman R Subramanian, while officials from Karnataka also participated.

According to WRD data accessed by TNIE, Karnataka is required to release 127.0535 tmc of Cauvery water to Tamil Nadu during the current water year, in accordance with the Supreme Court's final order. However, Tamil Nadu had received only 45.8508 tmc as of Wednesday (October 7), leaving a deficit of 81.2027 tmc.

WRD sources said Tamil Nadu had received only 3.6 tmc of its due share by the end of July. Following sustained efforts by the state, the cumulative inflow into Tamil Nadu increased to 46 tmc as of Wednesday during the current water year.

At the meeting, Tamil Nadu representatives sought the release of the state's due share on a pro-rata basis. They demanded 20 tmc between October 9 and 23, comprising 15 tmc pending from Karnataka and an additional five tmc. The demand works out to around 1.3 tmc a day.

A WRD official said Karnataka had not fully complied with previous CWMA directions. "Though the authority had directed Karnataka to release 4,000 cusecs earlier, Tamil Nadu regularly received less than 60% of the stipulated quantity. Now, Karnataka has been directed to release 3,000 cusecs a day from Friday. We are not sure whether the Karnataka government will comply with the order," the official said.

The official said the Tamil Nadu government would continue to take steps to secure the state's due share of Cauvery water, reduce the deficit and protect the interests of farmers.

'Couldn't get sample as tank had already been cleaned'

SPEAKING to TNIE, a police officer from Dindigul said, "We couldn't get the sample as the tank had already been cleaned. However, since it is a sensitive matter, we are checking the CCTV footage around the facility. Based on a complaint from the school headmaster, a case has been registered under BNS Section 272 (malignant act likely to spread infection of disease dangerous to life), 279 (fouling water of public spring or reservoir), and 123 (causing hurt by means of poison, etc., with intent to commit an offence). We will interrogate the teachers and staff regarding the matter."

It may be recalled that human faeces were found in a water tank at a government school in Ayyalur, Dindigul, on August 3. A school staff, who noticed a foul smell emanating from the water tap, found the faeces upon inspecting the tank on the terrace.

Though inquiries were conducted, no arrests have been recorded so far.

'Sea to See' drive to provide glasses to 25,000 fisherfolk

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

THE India Vision Institute (IVI) on Thursday launched 'Sea to See', a campaign aimed at providing corrective glasses to over 25,000 people from fishing communities using spectacle frames made from discarded fishing nets.

Launched at Kottivakkam on World Sight Day, the campaign seeks to combine eye care with environmental sustainability. Discarded fishing nets pose a threat to marine life, coastal habitats and navigation when they end up in the ocean.

Deputy Consul-General and Head of Bureau of France in Chennai Christophe Bramoullé joined IVI in distributing reading glasses with frames made from recycled fishing nets to beneficiaries from fishing communities.

IVI CEO Vinod Daniel said the campaign would focus on community eye care while promoting the responsible use of resources.

Supported by Bourbon Offshore, the campaign will build on IVI's existing vision screening and spectacles programmes for underserved communities across India.

Burglary at Kulithalai temple, second in a month

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Tiruchy

A private temple near Kulithalai was burgled for the second time in just over a month when a masked man allegedly took away a four-gram gold chain of the deity and around ₹3,000 from the offerings box on Tuesday night.

The burglary happened at Sri Angala Parameswari Amman temple at Karuppathur coming under the Kallapalli panchayat. According to police, the suspect scaled the rear wall of the temple and turned away a CCTV camera before breaking open the temple doors and locks using a crowbar. The burglary came to light when the temple priest arrived on Wednesday morning.

It may be noted that the same temple was burgled on September 6. Though a complaint was not lodged after the first incident, the management installed CCTV cameras on the premises, police said.

Following the complaint on Wednesday, police retrieved a clip of the burglar fleeing the temple from another camera which the person had failed to notice. According to sources, the temple belongs to members of Viswakarma community from Dindigul, who visit the shrine every month to offer prayers.

Special classes are being held to help students

SIMILARLY, out of the total 720 students in the seventh semester in ACT this time, at least 250 have arrears. Majority of the students have arrears in Mathematics and core subjects in their respective streams accordingly, as a one-time corrective measure, this special examination was conceptualised.

"We have directed the course instructors in all four campuses to identify students eligible to appear for this exam," said Kumaresan.

"To help the students in clearing the arrears, we are conducting special classes for them. Faculty members have been selected from each department to help students brush up the course," said K Shanmuga Sundaram, director of the Centre for University-Industry Collaboration (CUIC), which takes care of placement drives in the varsity. He stated that in 2024-25, the varsity recorded 65% placement and this year, the situation has improved a bit.
