Centre clears ₹2.12 lakh crore package for defence procurement

DOMESTIC CAPABILITY. Ministry states that nearly 82% of the procurements will be made indigenously

Dalip Singh
New Delhi

Self-propelled tracked gun systems, helicopters, different classes of drones and counter-drone systems and active offboard decoy systems (AODS) for ships to create false targets are among the big-ticket procurements carrying a total value of ₹2.12 lakh crore that received in-principle administrative approval from the Defence Acquisition Council (DAC) on Monday.

Chaired by Defence Minister Rajnath Singh, the DAC gave nod to the proposal for the procurement of high mobility vehicles (HMOV), gun shot response systems (GSRS), light multi role helicopters (LMRH), very short-range air defence systems (VSHORADS), platform-based counter unmanned aerial systems (C-UAS), unmanned aerial system brick long range, surveillance UAVs, integrated surveillance and strike systems, and long range kamikaze drone systems, said the Ministry of Defence in a statement.

The HMOV will enhance operational capabilities, logistical support and mobility in challenging terrains while the self-propelled tracked gun systems will provide matching mobility and firepower to mechanised formations.

APPLICATIONS

The GSRS, which is also called a gunfire locator, is an automated tactical technology designed to instantly detect, locate and analyse hostile gunfire, and will serve as a force multiplier providing real-time situational awareness of the forces.

The light multi role helicopters (LMRH) will be used by both the Army and the Air Force for reconnaissance and surveillance, combat,

TOP PRIORITIES. The proposal includes the procurement of high mobility vehicles, helicopters, air defence systems, unmanned aerial systems and multiple surveillance systems ANI search and rescue of troops, humanitarian assistance and disaster relief, among others, said the Ministry.

The VSHORADS — a fourth-generation, man-portable air-defence system (MANPADS) with which the Army wants to replace its aging fleet of legacy systems, such as the Russian Igla-1M — is designed to engage new generation small size aerial threats.

While C-UAS will enhance the survivability of tanks in the modern battlefield, the surveillance and drone systems will enhance the intelligence gathering and targeting capabilities of the Army.

For the Navy, approval was given for acquiring active offboard decoy systems (AODS) and other major naval platforms.

The AODS will enhance the credibility of anti-missiles defence, especially against modern anti-ship missiles of adversaries.

The indigenously-designed and constructed major naval platforms will possess modern-day warfare capabilities and enhance the combat capability of the Navy.

According to the MoD, IAF's proposals got a go-ahead for the procurement of special utility helicopters, air defence systems, weapons and Mobile X-Band Doppler Weather Radar Systems to enhance its air defence and war fighting capabilities. The X-Band Doppler Weather Radar System will provide high-resolution, localised weather surveillance in forward areas.

Out of the total in-principle administrative nod accorded, the Ministry stated that approximately 82 per cent of the procurements will be made from Indian industry.

Defence Minister Rajnath Singh on Monday called for rolling out 'Aatmanirbharta 2.0' in the defence sector, with emphasis on the development of top-end, state-of-the-art technologies, strengthening research & development (R&D), and building resilient supply chains to reduce import dependence and achieve technological superiority.

The push for 'Aatmanirbharta 2.0' will contribute to the vision of Viksit Bharat@2047, Singh said in his address at the fifth edition of Swavlamban, the Indian Navy's naval innovation and indigenisation seminar.

He also emphasised the need to build on the gains of the first phase of self-reliance achieved under the leadership of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, stating that defence innovators with futuristic vision and scientific discipline could play the role of 'impact players' in pursuing more challenging technological goals.

The defence Minister stated that the next phase of Aatmanirbharta must also focus quality, efficiency and affordability institutions and increased opportunities for the youth to pursue careers in R&D.

INDIAN TALENT

According to the Minister, over 4,000 proposals had been submitted against 229 challenges issued by the Navy iDEX, which reflected the depth of Indian talent and the enthusiasm of entrepreneurs as they have developed solutions in naval systems, sensors, communications and other critical areas.

Singh stated that the next phase of Aatmanirbharta must focus not only on the quantity of indigenous products but also on their quality, efficiency and affordability.

He emphasised that self-reliance must strengthen national security as well as economic resilience.

"Our government has ensured that a lack of funding does not become an obstacle to the aspirations of our talented youth.

Naval contracts worth over ₹1,900 crore demonstrate that our efforts are delivering tangible results. The steady progress of our Navy is a testament to this resolve," he said.

For a broader approach to indigenisation, Singh called for the development of a 'Dual Technology Roadmap' to identify and prioritise technologies that can serve both civilian and military requirements.

'Parliaments have responsibility to listen to voices of young'

Shishir Sinha
New Delhi

Amid Gen Z protests over various issues, Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla on Monday said Parliaments had a vital responsibility to listen to young voices and understand their hopes and concerns.

He also highlighted that regional conflicts, wars, economic instability, trade tensions, terrorism and climate change across the world affect everyone.

Birla was addressing the inaugural ceremony of the 12th BRICS Parliamentary Forum, held at Parliament House. Parliamentary delegations from 11 member countries and 10 BRICS partner countries are attending the two-day conference.

BRICS nations account for nearly half the world's population and about a third of its land, along with a significant share of the global economy and trade.

PARLIAMENTS' ROLE

Drawing attention to the hopes and aspirations of the younger generation, Birla observed that today's youth had growing access to quality education and technological knowledge, along with an immense desire to innovate, excel and contribute to society.

Their aspirations must be met with meaningful opportunities, dignity and an enabling environment where their talents can flourish.

"Parliaments have a vital responsibility to listen to young voices, understand their hopes and concerns, and create pathways through which their energy, creativity and capabilities could be channelled into nation-building," he said.

GLOBAL CHALLENGES

Noting that the world was in a period of profound uncertainty, Birla highlighted the mounting challenges posed by regional conflicts, wars, economic instability, trade tensions, terrorism and climate change.

"Their consequences transcended national boundaries," he said and called for a spirit of collective responsibility.

"In such a challenging global landscape, dialogue, diplomacy and cooperation assume even greater significance.

Parliaments, as vibrant expressions of the people's will, could serve as bridges of understanding, strengthen mutual confidence, ease international tensions and help advance peaceful and constructive responses to global challenges," Birla said.

Telangana, Maharashtra to discuss heightening Tummidihatti Barrage

Our Bureau
Hyderabad

Maharashtra and Telangana will constitute a joint committee of officials to examine Telangana's proposal to increase the height of the proposed Tummidihatti Barrage on the Pranahita River, with Maharashtra Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis responding positively to the request.

The committee, to be headed by the Principal Secretaries of the Irrigation Departments of the two States, will examine the proposed barrage height, water availability, submergence implications, affected agricultural lands, compensation requirements and other technical issues.

A Telangana delegation led by Chief Minister A Revanth Reddy met Fadnavis in Mumbai on Monday to discuss the proposed project, including the enhancement of the barrage height to 152 metres from 148 metres, water availability and the potential impact of submergence.

KEY FACTORS

Fadnavis said several technical, environmental and administrative aspects would have to be examined before a final decision was taken. If the project does not adversely affect Maharashtra or its people, his government would have no hesitation in supporting Telangana in meeting its water requirements in the larger national interest.

SCCL to expand into critical minerals mining

Our Bureau
Hyderabad

Telangana Deputy Chief Minister Bhatti Vikramarka has directed the State-owned Singareni Collieries Company (SCCL) to expand operations into critical minerals such as copper, gold, vanadium and lithium, while reducing coal production costs.

With the growing adoption of alternative energy sources, including solar power, battery storage and pumped storage projects, Singareni must assess the implications for thermal power generation and future coal demand and diversify its operations beyond coal mining, he said.

Speaking at a meeting with 66 General Managers of SCCL, a first of its kind initiative by the government, here on Sunday, Bhatti directed officials to develop new mines, improve productivity and utilise manpower and machinery more efficiently to make the company more competitive.

Singareni supports about 42,000 permanent employees and 34,000-36,000 contract and outsourced workers, making its long-term viability a key concern for the State government.

The Deputy Chief Minister suggested engaging international consultants and conducting detailed feasibility studies before investing in new mineral sectors, leveraging Singareni's more than a century of mining experience.

The State government is examining options to develop new mines and has taken up with the Union Coal Ministry the issue of allowing Singareni to utilise coal blocks previously allocated to it, instead of bringing them back into the auction process.

AP to set up 'Quantum and AI University Campus'

KV Kurmanath
Hyderabad

Even as the Andhra Pradesh government has tied up with the National Institute of Electronics and Information Technology (NIELIT) to set up the country's first dedicated Quantum and AI University campus at Amaravati, NVIDIA's role seems to be confined to the AI Living Labs initiative that the State government is building in parallel to promote AI skilling. The State government announced last year that it would set up the university, touted as the first in the country, in association with chipmaker NVIDIA.

However, it issued an order earlier this year announcing the formation of the AI Living Labs Foundation, where NVIDIA will provide free AI teaching kits and learning resources, with the State government buying hardware through open procurement.

The campus will be part of NIELIT's existing Deemed-to-be University framework under the Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology (MeitY), while NVIDIA, the partner named for the AI University last year, is involved only as the Labs initiative as per the official announcements.

NVIDIA has not responded to queries on its role in the university or its role in the Labs initiative and the rollout plan.

AI UNIVERSITY CAMPUS

The campus will be built on 8.5 acres, with a proposed investment of ₹730.70 crore over five years. The project is proposed to be funded entirely through grant-in-aid from MeitY. NIELIT had signed a memorandum of understanding with the State government at the India AI Impact Summit on February 20, 2026, in this connection.

The campus plans to train about 8,250 learners over five years, including 1,650 through degree programmes and 6,600 through skilling and certification programmes.
